Artificial Intelligence in Nondestructive Testing of Civil Engineering Materials Juncai Xu, Wen Deng, Jun Wu, 2021-11-23 On ne naît pas femme : on le devient Bonnie Mann, Martina Ferrari, 2017-07-20 This collection of essays takes up the most famous feminist sentence ever written Simone de Beauvoir's On ne naît pas femme on le devient finding in it a flashpoint that galvanizes feminist thinking and action in multiple dimensions Since its publication the sentence has inspired feminist thinking and action in many different cultural and linguistic contexts Two entangled controversies emerge in the life of this sentence a controversy over the practice of translation and a controversy over the nature and status of sexual difference Various translations into English as One is not born but rather becomes a woman Parshley 1953 one is not born but rather becomes woman Borde and Malovany Chevallier 2010 and women are made not born in popular parlance the conflict over the translation crystallizes the feminist debate over the possibilities and limitations of social construction as a theory of sexual difference When Sheila Malovany Chevallier and Constance Borde contributors to this volume translated Le Deuxième Sexe into English in 2010 their decision to alter the translation of the famous sentence by omitting the ignited debate that has not yet exhausted itself The controversy over the English translation has opened a conversation about translation practices and their relation to meaning more generally and broadens in this volume into an examination of the life of Beauvoir's key sentence in other languages and political and cultural contexts as well The philosophers translators literary scholars and historian who author these essays take decidedly different positions on the meaning of the sentence in French and thus on its correct translation in a variety of languages but also on the meaning and salience of the question of sexual difference as it travels between languages cultures and political worlds Concrete, 1904 The Cement Age; a Magazine Devoted to the Uses of Cement, 1907 Latin Notes, 1923 If Babel Had a Form Tze-Yin Teo, 2022-04-05 The likeness of form between Chinese and English sentences writes the American Sinologist Ernest Fenollosa around 1906 renders translation from one to the other exceptionally easy If Babel Had a Form asks not if his claim may be true but what its phantasmic surprise may yet do In twentieth century intersections of China and Asia with the United States translations did more than communicate meaning across politicized and racializing differences of language and nation Transpacific translation breached the regulative protocols that created those very differences of human value and cultural meaning The result Tze Yin Teo argues saw translators cleaving to the sounds and shapes of poetry to imagine a translingual likeness of form but not of meaning or kind At stake in this form without meaning is a startling new task of equivalence As a concept equivalence has been rejected for its colonizing epistemology of value naming a broken promise of translation and false premise of comparison Yet the writers studied in this book veered from those ways of knowing to theorize a poetic equivalence negating the colonial foundations of the concept they ignited aporias of meaning into flashpoints for a radical literary translation The book's transpacific readings glean those forms of equivalence from the writing of Fenollosa the vernacular experiments of Boxer Scholar Hu Shi the trilingual musings of Shanghai born Los Angeles novelist Eileen Chang the minor work of the Bay Area Korean American transmedial artist Theresa Cha and a post Tiananmen elegy by the exiled dissident Yang Lian The conclusion returns to the deconstructive genealogy of recent debates on translation and untranslatability displacing the axiom of radical alterity for a no less radical equivalence that remains pace Fenollosa far from easy or exceptional Ultimately If Babel Had a Form illuminates the demanding force of even the slightest sameness entangled in the translator's work of remaking our differences Concrete International ,1991 Cement Age ,1907
