Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators NASFAA convened a task force in 2012 to study this issue and make recommendations for improvement NASFAA's Task Force on Student Indebtedness was charged with examining current trends and making recommendations aimed at improving the system for students and institutions throughout all stages of borrowing including pre borrowing in school and repayment NASFAA's Board of Directors reviewed and approved the eight recommendations featured in this report Taken together these eight recommendations address shortcomings in the current student loan system at each level of borrowing preborrowing in school and repayment They were each designed with the goal of achieving 1 More informed borrowers 2 More responsible borrowing 3 Tools or frameworks for institutions to assist borrowers 4 More borrowers successfully repaying their loans and 5 Federal and institutional policies that reinforce all of the above In contrast to the recent loan program changes which arose strictly out of fiscal concerns these recommendations are intended to serve as starting points for meaningful policy discussions surrounding borrowing and student loan reform The hope is that these discussions will lead toward better designed loan programs that serve the needs of today's borrowers as they pursue their educational goals Members of the task force include Chuck Knepfle Chair Brenda Brown Chris Christensen Dan Davenport Ron Day Pam Fowler Anna Griswold Rita Grogan Jane Hickey Kevin Jensen Craig Munier David Page Bernie Pekala Tom Sakos Yara Santana Rick Shipman and Joan Zanders

Innovative Learning Models National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA), 2015 The rules systems and processes that work for traditional term based brick and mortar programs do not always work to advance the innovation that currently exists within higher education and the recommendations in this paper are the first step to help ensure barriers are eliminated that stifle this innovation Innovative learning models provide a means for individuals to learn independent of time or place in order to earn a higher education credential that is credible to both academic institutions and employers The Higher Education Act HEA and Title IV regulations 34 CFR 600.2 look at seat time students completing a certain number of courses and hours within a defined academic period with certain requirements on instructional time Reauthorization of the HEA while keeping credit and clock hours needs to create an alternative way of looking at higher education focused on evidence of student learning what students actually know and can do instead of time Ultimately the federal student aid system must be updated to allow for greater access to programs offered in innovative formats that are not based on traditional credit hour or clock hour models A guiding principle of this task force is to not stand in the way of students being successful and do what is best to meet both the needs of individual learners and the institutions serving these students The recommendations proposed by this task force focus on accelerating time to degree completion improving access lowering total educational cost and keeping student loan indebtedness to a minimum In an attempt to create an explicit process to award financial aid based on actual learning and demonstrated competency rather than time spent in class five themes emerge The following themes set the platform for the statutory and regulatory recommendations 1 flexibility for students and institutions 2 accountability 3 cost of education and
