The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012 Juta's Statutes of South Africa South Africa, 2004 Quality and Inclusion in Education N.V. Varghese, Anjana Mangalagiri, A. Mathew, 2023-05-12 This book calls for an equitable and qualitative access to education for all. It proposes paradigms of educational governance that are based on coalition building between key stakeholders are grounded in local and cultural contexts sensitive to the language needs of communities. It underlines the significance of gender sensitive and inclusive approaches that ensure equity for marginalized children and minorities. Based on research based studies the volume focuses on equity quality and learning covering a broad spectrum from school to higher to adult education. It discusses the multiple learner deprivations amongst the marginalized communities and the severe impact of events such as pandemics that exacerbate learner inequities and the recent developments in India under the National Education Policy 2020. It also presents research based country experiences in the Asian India Bangladesh China and African Ghana South Africa contexts showing how external influences on the changing priorities in policy perspectives cut across developing countries. Compiled in honour of Professor R Govinda this volume of insightful articles will be of interest to students and researchers of educational policy and studies sociology of education equity and human rights. It will also be useful for decision makers and think tanks.

Creating the New African University, 2023-05-25 Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities particularly in post independent Africa where Higher Education Institutions HEIs are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex dynamic contemporary and future challenges facing African societies. The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa's development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good. It engages issues within the context of how post colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies. This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary interdisciplinary transdisciplinary and cross disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation. Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements.

Federal Student Loans Made Under the Federal Family Education Loan Program and the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program David P. Smole, 2013-03-13 The William D Ford Federal Direct Loan DL program authorized under Title IV Part D of the Higher Education Act of 1965 HEA as amended is the primary federal student loan program administered by the U S Department of Education ED. The program makes available loans to undergraduate and graduate students and the parents of dependent undergraduate students to help them finance their postsecondary education expenses The following types of loans are currently offered through the DL program Subsidized Stafford Loans for undergraduate students Unsubsidized Stafford Loans for undergraduate and graduate students PLUS Loans for graduate students and the parents of dependent undergraduate students and Consolidation Loans through which borrowers may combine multiple loans into a single loan For FY2013 ED estimates that 22.5 million loans not including Consolidation Loans totaling 120.8 billion will be made to students and their parents through the DL program Until July 1, 2010 Subsidized Stafford Loans Unsubsidized Stafford Loans PLUS Loans and Consolidation Loans were also available through the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) program authorized under Title IV Part B of the HEA The SAFRA Act part of the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (H.C.E.R.A.) P.L. 111-152 terminated the authority to make new loans under the FFEL program after June 30, 2010 While new loans may no longer be made through the FFEL program approximately 289 billion in FFEL program loans are outstanding and are due to be repaid over the coming years FFEL and DL program loans are low interest loans with maximum interest rates for each type of loan established by statute Subsidized Stafford Loans are unique in that they are only available to undergraduate students demonstrating financial need With certain exceptions the federal government pays the interest that accrues on Subsidized Stafford Loans while the borrower is enrolled in school on at least a half-time basis during a six-month grace period thereafter and during periods of authorized deferment Unsubsidized Stafford Loans and PLUS Loans are available to borrowers irrespective of their financial need and borrowers are responsible for paying all the interest that accrues on these loans FFEL and DL program loans have terms and conditions that may be more favorable to borrowers than private and other non-federal loans These beneficial terms and conditions include interest rates that are often lower than rates that might be obtained from other lenders opportunities for repayment relief through deferment and forbearance loan consolidation and several loan forgiveness programs In the recent years numerous changes were made to the terms and conditions of DL program loans The Budget Control Act of 2011 (B.C.A.) P.L. 112-25 eliminated the availability of Subsidized Stafford Loans to graduate and professional students for periods of instruction beginning on or after July 1, 2012 and terminated the availability of certain repayment incentives for loans made on or after July 1, 2012 The Consolidated Appropriations Act FY2012 P.L. 112-74 eliminated interest subsidies during the six-month post-enrollment grace period on Subsidized Stafford Loans disbursed between July 1, 2012 and June 30, 2014 The Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act (M.A.P. 21) P.L. 112-141 lowered the interest rate from 6.8% to 3.4% on Subsidized Stafford Loans made between July 1, 2012 and June 30, 2013 Also for individuals who are new borrowers on or after July 1, 2013 M.A.P. 21 restricted both the period during which individuals may borrow Subsidized Stafford Loans and the period during which the in-school interest subsidy may be provided to 150% of the published length of their educational program

Costs and Policy Options for Federal Student Loan Programs Deborah Lucas,2010-08 Your Federal Student Loans-Learn the Basics and Manage Your Debt U. S. Department U.S. Department Of Education,2014-05-12 When you re considering college or some form of education after high school financial aid almost always comes to mind While you have the primary responsibility of paying for college sometimes those funds just aren t enough and you need to look at other resources The U S Department of Education provides more than 150 billion in federal student aid grants work study and loans each year to students seeking a postsecondary education a degree after high school About 14 million students currently receive federal student aid with a majority receiving federal student loans In addition to federal student aid financial aid is alsoavailable from colleges companies private scholarship funds or the state in which you live So there are resources to help you pay for college but you have to utilize them As you explore your financial aid options make sure to consider federal student loans These loans are a possibility for everyone because not all federal student loans are based solely on financial need If you have any questions or concerns about getting a federal student loan then make sure to review this publication

Student Loan Funds Harmon Foundation, inc,1924 Financing a College Education Jacqueline Elizabeth King,1999 In Financing a College Education 15 prominent policy analysts and higher education specialists describe how student costs at U S postsecondary institutions are met why and how student aid policy and practice have changed over the last few years and what enhancements to current programs would make the system more equitable The book s first part describes the massive and unwieldy but vitally important system of federal state private and institutional financial aid for students The second part discusses controversial student aid issues that are currently high on the national agenda in particular the shift away from ensuring access and toward making college more affordable for students from middle class families Searching for the Best Deal American Institutes for Research,2016 For high school students and their parents paying for college can be daunting particularly if student loans are a factor Some advocates have suggested that income share agreements ISAs may help these families finance postsecondary education ISAs are an alternative form of financial aid in which students pledge a portion of their future earnings in exchange for money to pay for college now Experts and advocates have argued that ISAs can reduce the financial risk associated with student debt and signal differences in program quality through more favorable ISA terms This third brief in a series about ISAs explores the characteristics of financing options that students and parents desire We conducted 21 paired interviews with high school students and parents from a wide variety of backgrounds These participants views indicate possible reactions to ISAs and highlight issues that ISA funders and others will need to consider if the ISA market is to grow Key Findings 1 Students and parents desire flexibility especially the ability to renegotiate the terms of an arrangement or accelerate payments 2 Students and parents want to be able to predict how much they will pay in total Both also are concerned that the total payment amount could be very large if students are successful 3 Students are not open to using information about college value as conveyed by variations in ISA terms to make decisions about which institution to attend or which major to pursue They highlighted nonfinancial factors such as long term happiness among their considerations and 4 Students and parents believed that others would change their decisions if presented with similar information

What You Don't Know About Student Loans Can Hurt You Ce Cole Dillon, 2015 Do you think that everyone should go to college If so can you write a check to pay for tuition and college expenses If you can't write a check and you don't have scholarship money then you are probably going to be a student loan borrower Like most people you probably think that student loans are like all other financial products They are not Student loans are not subject to normal consumer protections If you get in over your head you can't go to bankruptcy court to discharge your loan And if you default your tax refunds government disability pay or social security payments can be garnished administratively That means the government doesn't have to sue you to take part of your money to pay this debt The student loan crisis occurs in the context of people buying more education than they could afford and borrowing for it If you are buying a car you don't buy a Mercedes if all you can afford is a Chevy But we don't think that way when it comes to education Affordability is the last question that gets asked After reading What You Don't Know About Student Loans Could Hurt You you will know that the first question you should ask is how much can I afford And if you have already bought college and are now trying to pay back your college debt this book will tell you about innovative government programs that will allow you a better way to pay back your debt so that you can pay for your life not just your student loans
