Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee, 2014-08-28 Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers They need information and answers to their questions And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success In a clearly presented format the book includes advice on legal matters identifying appropriate courses sourcing study material tips on entrepreneurship financing tertiary studies and the testimonies of successful homeshooled graduates Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond

Student Financing of Higher Education Donald Heller, Claire Callender, 2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world In recent years many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place There are high and low income countries and high and low income households For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country's developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy

Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in
