Differences Between Student Loans And Nfsas:

The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012 Government Managing Risk Bruce Chapman, 2006-09-27 Higher education rates are increasing throughout the Western world yet at the same time government budgets face increasing constraints This has ensured that the importance of student support is recognized in many countries In recent years there has been a world wide movement towards the use of income contingent loans ICL for higher education ICLs are now used in six countries following the Australian innovation of 1989 with the governments of many more countries looking very seriously at the model This impressive new book by Bruce Chapman analyzes ICLs particularly their use in supporting students exploring the experiences of a number of other countries adopting them Chapman presents analysis of a number of disparate case studies to illustrate how ICLs can aid risk management policy reforming in both progressive and administratively feasible ways This book describes examines and promotes an exciting new role for the public sector as a manager of risk and argues that ICLs have enormous potential to change the extent and nature of social and economic activities With the author's experience in the design and implementation of the Australian student financial support schemes this is a knowledgeable informative and enlightening book that will be useful to researchers students and policy makers alike Let's Talk About Varsity ,2009 Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee, 2014-08-28 Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers They need information and answers to their questions And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success In a clearly presented format the book includes advice on legal matters identifying appropriate courses sourcing study material tips on entrepreneurship financing tertiary studies and the testimonies of successful homeschooled graduates Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it's double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Creating the New African University, 2023-05-25 Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities particularly in post independent Africa where Higher Education Institutions HEIs are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex dynamic contemporary and future challenges facing African societies The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa s development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good It engages issues within the context of how post colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary interdisciplinary transdisciplinary and cross disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements

Higher Education and SDG10 Priya Grover,Nidhi Phutela,Pragya Singh,2025-09-01 This collection of chapters explores the various ways that Higher Education Institutes can address inequality through their core functions of teaching research outreach and engagement

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr.,Vijay Reddy,2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place There are high and low income countries and high and low income households For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country s developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy

Governance and the postcolony David Everatt,2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub Saharan context Governance and the Postcolony Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations public policy public management and administration

Assembly, 2002 Social Work in Social Change Nicci Earle, 2008 This study forms part of a series of studies on professions and professional education being conducted by the HSRC's research programme on Education Science Skills Development. It follows a pilot study on medical doctors published in 2006 entitled Doctors in a Divided Society. The profession and education of medical practitioners in South Africa. Like the other studies in the series, this study involved developing an understanding of the professional milieu and professional labour market of social workers. As the implementers of government social policy, social work professionals have been at the forefront of grappling with the practicalities of the changes in focus, approach and methods of social security and social service delivery since 1994. It examines developments in the education and training of social workers within the democratic dispensation, the most significant of which is the development of a national standardised Bachelor of Social Work degree. The study also reveals that the dominant profile in student enrolment and graduation statistics has changed from white female to African female and that enrolment has increased significantly. However, the study also shows that graduation trends have been negative and losses due to emigration are an additional concern. Given the scarcity of these professionals against the demand for their services, understanding the factors that contribute to this picture are critical to effective intervention.
