Financial Planning And Budgeting Course Brian Smith, This

financial planning and budgeting course provides a comprehensive guide to understanding and managing personal finances. It covers the importance of financial planning and the components of a financial plan including setting financial goals. The course also teaches the fundamentals of budgeting, different types of budgets, and the steps to create an effective budget. It delves into managing income and expenses, highlighting income management, expense tracking, and debt management. The course explores investment planning, discussing investments, risk, and return, and investment strategies. Retirement planning is another crucial aspect covered, emphasizing the importance of saving for retirement and exploring various retirement savings options. Tax planning, estate planning, insurance planning, and financial planning for special situations like marriage, children, and divorce are also discussed. The course concludes with monitoring and adjusting financial plans, as well as resources and tools for financial planning.

Mergers & Acquisitions - a Real Option valuation approach of investment decision under uncertainty Marc Zajicek, 2004-01-06 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The objective of this dissertation is to examine the application of Real Options for the evaluation of companies with regard to acquisitions. There has been an intensive scientific discussion in the past years about the Real Options method for the evaluation of investments and mergers/acquisitions. As in practice, usually the management tries to capture future developments with static methods of capital budgeting. For example, future cash flows are discounted with a fixed risk-adjusted discount rate. Therefore, the Real Options approach has been applied very rarely as it has the reputation of high complexity and poor practicability in daily business. However, the use of present values and capitalized values may produce pitfalls in acquisition decisions as strategic investment decisions might be characterized by a wide range of possibilities to react flexibly to a fast-changing environment. In chapter 1, the term Mergers/Acquisitions (M/A) is defined, and the motives as well as the relevance of M/A transactions for different branches are described in detail. Furthermore, the process and the different phases of a merger or an acquisition are explained. Chapter 2 presents traditional evaluation methods: static net present value, sensitivity analysis, Monte Carlo, and decision tree. These classic methods are discussed, and a comparison is drawn among these techniques in regard to practicability. At the end of this chapter, an evaluation is presented in regard to specific situations with the major parameter of uncertainty and flexibility for the application of these classic methods. The basic concept of option pricing is described in chapter 3. In addition, the Black-Scholes equation and the underlying assumptions are explained in detail in order to understand financial options, which are the basis for the Real Options approach. At the end of the chapter, an example of a call and put option is discussed in order to understand the functioning of options. Chapter 4 presents an introduction and definition of the Real Options method. Furthermore, the value drivers and the value creation due to the application of Real Options are discussed and analyzed in detail. After the discussion of the functioning of Real Options, a comparison of the analogy between financial Options and Real Options is done in order to point out possible differences. In this context, the limitations of the analogy of financial and Real Options are presented. Finally, Suggestions for a Segregated Budget System for Kansas
