Black Looks Race And Representation:

Black Looks bell hooks, 2014-10-10 In the critical essays collected in Black Looks bell hooks interrogates old narratives and argues for alternative ways to look at blackness black subjectivity and whiteness Her focus is on spectatorship in particular the way blackness and black people are experienced in literature music television and especially film and her aim is to create a radical intervention into the way we talk about race and representation As she describes the essays in Black Looks are meant to challenge and unsettle to disrupt and subvert As students scholars activists intellectuals and any other readers who have engaged with the book since its original release in 1992 can attest that s exactly what these pieces do

Black Looks Bell Hooks, 1992 In these twelve essays bell hooks digs ever deeper into the personal and political consequences of contemporary representations of race and ethnicity within a white supremacist culture Black Looks Bell Hooks, 1992 Gender, Race, and Class in Media Bill Yousman, William E Yousman, Lori Bindig Yousman, Gail Dines, Jean McMahon Humez, 2020-07-24 Incisive analyses of mass media including such forms as talk shows MTV the internet soap operas television sitcoms dramatic series pornography and advertising enable this provocative new edition of Gender Race and Class in Media to engage students in critical mass media scholarship Issues of power related to gender race and class are integrated into a wide range of articles examining the economic and cultural implications of mass media as institutions including the political economy of media production textual analysis and media consumption Throughout Gender Race and Class in Media examines the mass media as economic and cultural institutions that shape our social identities especially in regard to gender race and class Encyclopedia of Race and Ethnic Studies Ellis Cashmore, 2004-03 The book comprises essays each highlighting a particular word or term germane to the study of race and ethnic studies

Intents and Purposes Eric Lewis, 2019-03-29 How do we define improvised music What is the relationship of highly improvised performances to the work they are performances of How do we decide what are the important parts of an improvised musical work In Intents and Purposes Eric Lewis uses a series of case studies to challenge assumptions about what defines a musical work and musical performance seeking to go beyond philosophical and aesthetic templates from Western classical music to foreground the distinctive practices and aesthetics of jazz Pushing aside the assumption that composition and improvisation are different or even opposed musical practices Lewis s philosophically informed approach revisits key topics in musical ontology such as how to define the triangle of composer performer listener and the status of live performances in relation to scores and recordings Drawing on critical race theory feminist theory new musicology sociology cognitive science and genre theory Lewis opens up new questions about agency in performance as well as new ways of considering the historical relationships between improvisational practices with roots in different cultural frameworks By showing how jazz can be both art idea and action all at the same time Lewis offers a new way of seeing any improvised musical performance in a new culturally and aesthetically rich context Race, Ethnicity and Social Theory John

Solomos,2022-07-01 Race Ethnicity and Social Theory provides a critical analysis of the main areas of scholarly research and debate about racial and ethnic relations over the past few decades The book covers substantive areas of scholarly debate in this fast changing field including race and social relations identities and the construction of the racial other feminism and race the relationship between race and nationalism antisemitism the evolution of new forms of racism race and political representation and more generally the changing debates about race and ethnicity in our global environment The book argues that there is a need for more dialogue across national and conceptual boundaries about how to develop the theoretical tools needed to understand both the historical roots of contemporary forms of racialised social and political relations and the contemporary forms through which race is made and re made A key argument that runs through the book is the need to develop conceptual frameworks that can help us to make sense of the changing forms of racial and ethnic relations in contemporary societies This means developing more dialogue across national research cultures as well as empirical research that seeks to engage with the key issues raised by contemporary theoretical debates The book will be of interest to both students wanting to develop a deeper understanding of this area of scholarship and to researchers of race ethnicity and migration working in various national and disciplinary environments

The Routledge Research Companion to Media Geography Dr Jason Dittmer,Dr Jim Craine,Dr Paul C Adams,2014-09-28 This Companion provides an authoritative source for scholars and students of the nascent field of media geography While it has deep roots in the wider discipline the consolidation of media geography has started only in the past decade with the creation of media geography s first dedicated journal Aether as well as the publication of the sub discipline s first textbook However at present there is no other work which provides a comprehensive overview and grounding By indicating the sub discipline s evolution and hinting at its future this volume not only serves to encapsulate what geographers have learned about media but also will help to set the agenda for expanding this type of interdisciplinary exploration The contributors leading scholars in this field including Stuart Aitken Deborah Dixon Derek McCormack Barney Warf and Matthew Zook not only review the existing literature within the remit of their chapters but also articulate arguments about where the future might take media geography scholarship The volume is not simply a collection of individual offerings but has afforded an opportunity to exchange ideas about media geography with contributors making connections between chapters and developing common themes

Race and Respectability in an Early Black Atlantic Cassander L. Smith,2023-10-25 Race and Respectability in an Early Black Atlantic examines the means through which people of African descent embodied tenets of respectability as a coping strategy to navigate enslavement and racial oppression in the early

Black Atlantic world The term respectability politics refers to the way members of a minoritized population adopt the customs and manners of a dominant culture in order to gain visibility and combat negative stereotypes about their subject group Today respectability politics can be seen in how those within and outside Black communities police the behavior of Black celebrities critique protest movements and celebrate accomplishments by people of African descent who break racial barriers To study the origins of the complicated relationship between race and respectability Cassander L Smith shows that early American literatures reveal Black communities engaging with issues of respectability from the very beginning of the transatlantic slave trade Concerns about character and comportment influenced the literary production of Black Atlantic communities particularly in the long eighteenth century Uncovering the central importance of respectability as a theme shaping the literary development of cultures throughout the early Black Atlantic Smith illuminates the mechanics of respectability politics in a range of texts including poetry letters and life writing by Phillis Wheatley Olaudah Equiano and expatriates on the west coast of Africa in Sierra Leone Through these early Black texts Race and Respectability in an Early Black Atlantic considers respectability politics as a malleable strategy that has both energized and suppressed Black cultures for centuries

Border/lines ,1994 When the Nazis Came to Skokie Philippa Strum,1999 Strum political science City U of New York Brooklyn describes the events when a neo Nazi group announced it would parade in the Chicago suburb in 1977 and the ensuing court case that tested the devotion of many to the principles of free speech Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Getting Beyond Race Richard Payne,1998-03-27 In Getting Beyond Race Richard Payne takes the practical approach that race relations are ultimately about ordinary people interacting with each other Payne argues that confrontation blaming and dwelling on failure in race relations are not as productive as adopting a positive view and looking at individual success stories Drawing from his own experience of having lived with different racial groups and hundreds of conversations with Americans from all walks of life and racial backgrounds he writes about those who are helping to reduce the significance of race in society and through their actions are creating models of behavior for America s future Payne covers topics from how race is an artificial concept created for social purposes to race in the military interracial marriages and adoptions affirmative action and the effects of generational change and immigration on racial attitudes in America Instead of looking at questions of race simply in terms of black white relations he expands his discussion to include Latinos Asians and other people of color Moreover Payne contends that the very concept of race is being weakened by fundamental changes throughout many facets of American culture This book looks forward and offers concrete suggestions for getting beyond race Teaching Women's History Bettina Bradbury,1995 Cultural Life Howard Dodson,Colin A. Race and Groupwork Tara Mistry, Allan G. Brown, 1997 Groupwork literature and practice theory is largely eurocentric The issues facing black groupworkers and the groupwork needs of service users from minority communities are inadequately addressed in available material In some countries anti racist and race equality perspectives are now under attack Race and Groupwork provides a coherent overview of its subject The Editors have included innovative material by front line practitioners working with black and multiracial groups as well as articles on the theoretical and philosophical principals raised Several articles reflect on some of the inhibiting and oppressive organisational factors which can hamper this important work and suggest approaches which might enable more facilitative policies

Dark Smiles Alicia Carroll, 2003 Although George Eliot has long been described as the novelist of the Midlands she often brought the outer reaches of the empire home in her work Dark Smiles Race and Desire in George Eliot studies Eliot s problematic career long interest in representing racial and ethnic Otherness Placing Eliot s diverse and wide ranging treatment of Otherness in its contemporary context Alicia Carroll argues that Eliot both engages and resists traditional racial and ethnic representations of Otherness Carroll finds that Eliot like other women writers of her time often appropriates narratives of Otherness to explore issues silenced in mainstream Victorian culture particularly the problem of the desirous woman But if Otherness in Eliot s century was usually gendered as woman and constructed as the object of white male desire Eliot often seeks to subvert that vision Professor Carroll demonstrates Eliot s tendency to exoticize images of girlhood vocation and maternity in order to critique and explore gendered subjectivities Indeed the disruptive presence of a racial or ethnic outsider often fractures Eliot s narratives of community creating a powerful critique of home culture The consistent reliance of Eliot s work upon racial and ethnic Otherness as a mode of cultural critique is explored here for the first time in its entirety
