Second Series ... F. Cornman, 1894 Illustrations of the North American Species of the Genus Catocala William Barnes, James Halliday McDunnough, 1918 Black Jack Max Brand, 2013-11-01 It was characteristic of the two that when the uproar broke out Vance Cornish raised his eyes but went on lighting his pipe Then his sister Elizabeth ran to the window with a swish of skirts around her long legs After the first shot there was a lull The little cattle town was as peaceful as ever with its storm shaken houses staggering away down the street A boy was stirring up the dust of the street enjoying its heat with his bare toes and the same old man was bunched in his chair in front of the store During the two days Elizabeth had been in town on her cattle buying trip she had never see him alter his position But she was accustomed to the West and this advent of sleep in the town did not satisfy her A drowsy town like a drowsy looking cow puncher might be capable of unexpected things Vance she said there s trouble starting Somebody shooting at a target he answered As if to mock him he had no sooner spoken than a dozen voices yelled down the street in a wailing chorus cut short by the rapid chattering of revolvers Vance ran to the window Just below the hotel the street made an elbow turn for no particular reason except that the original cattle trail had made exactly the same turn before Garrison City was built Toward the corner ran the hubbub at the pace of a running horse Shouts shrill trailing curses and the muffled beat of hoofs in the dust A rider plunged into view now his horse leaning far in to take the sharp angle and the dust skidding out and away from his sliding hoofs The rider gave easily and gracefully to the wrench of his mount And he seemed to have a perfect trust in his horse for he rode with the reins hanging over the horns of his saddle His hands were occupied by a pair of revolvers and he was turned in the saddle The head of the pursuing crowd lurched around the elbow turn fire spat twice from the mouth of each gun Two men dropped one rolling over and over in the dust and the other sitting down and clasping his leg in a ludicrous fashion But the crowd was checked and fell back By this time the racing horse of the fugitive had carried him close to the hotel and now he faced the front a handsome fellow with long black hair blowing about his face He wore a black silk shirt which accentuated the pallor of his face and the flaring crimson of his bandanna And he laughed joyously and the watchers from the hotel window heard him call Go it Mary Feed em dust girl

An Illustrated History of the State of Idaho ,1899 The Illustrated History of the Centennial Exhibition, Held in Commemoration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of American Independence... James D. McCabe,1876 World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated Weltausstellung,1891 The

American Artisan and Hardware Record ,1916 American Artisan ,1916 Country Life Illustrated ,1897 Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly Frank Leslie,1899 Leon Garfield Roni Natov,1994

Through his historical novels adventure stories ghost stories satires fairy tales and retellings of myths and legends Leon Garfield consistently portrays the mystery of human identity which he describes as the only mystery one can unravel endlessly In this first book length study of the author of Smith 1967 The Apprentices 1976 John Diamond 1981 and The December Rose 1986 Roni Natov engagingly chronicles the career of a natural storyteller a man whose work is permeated with the theme of spiritual renewal Natov asserts that like Charles Dickens to whom he is most often compared and the romantics before him Garfield explores how the outcast child finds the potential to repair the fractured family by creating symbolic bonds with the larger community Virtually all Garfield s work Natov argues gives voice to the private concerns of those rendered poor and impotent by class and social order She shows how in his largely allegorical works Garfield dramatizes the problems of members of the underclass while asserting their individualism and vitality An insightful and biographically rich interview with Garfield prefaces Natov s lucid genre organized study From there she analyzes the theme of the search for the father in Garfield s early novels and proceeds to cover the ghost stories the fiction of satire and parody the historical fiction the myths fairy tales and legends and what she calls the new morality in Garfield's fiction In discussing Garfield's later novels she focuses again on the theme of the search for the father In assessing Garfield's place among contemporary children's writers Natov finds him unique in the way he uses his heroes for him they represent those on the brink still malleable though aware and able to articulate their perpetual state of becoming In them and in their historical past Garfield finds hope for the future Natov contends she sees Garfield as interested in resurrecting a new social order out of what has been discarded from the traditional story of British history Natov's analysis is essential reading not only for students of children's literature but also for those interested in historical fiction generally for as Garfield has said although young readers are his primary audience he does not necessarily write with the child in mind
