

The book cover features a composite illustration. The upper portion shows a young white child with short brown hair, wearing a white dress with a blue sash, looking directly at the viewer. The lower portion is a historical-style illustration of a beach scene. On the left, a Maori man in a yellow loincloth is crouched, holding a spear. In the center, a white woman in a red and white striped dress is crouched, looking towards the Maori man. To her right, another white woman in a red and white striped dress is lying on the ground, seemingly unconscious or dead. In the background, there are palm trees and a body of water. The title 'CAPTURED BY MAORI' is printed in large, bold, red capital letters across the middle of the cover, partially overlapping the child's image and the beach scene.

Captured By Maori Hardcover:

Captured by Māori Trevor Bentley, 2004-01-01 The capture of white women by Maori in the nineteenth century was often accompanied by high hysteria and moral outrage Trevor Bentley tells these women's stories including those of Charlotte Badger Ann Morley Caroline Perrett and Elizabeth Guard exploring contemporary myths that all of these women were mistreated and held against their will The white settler population was at once fascinated and appalled by these stories what did the women have to do to survive how did they live and well what about sex The settlers were obsessed with the virtue of these women and in the retelling of their experiences most enjoyable aspects of living with Maori were suppressed Bentley reveals that two of these women actually chose to remain in the Maori world Book Self C. K. Stead, 2013-10-01 A sequel to the successful books Kin of Place and The Writer at Work this collection of critical writing takes the reader on a personal journey from the author's earliest discovery of poetry as a young man to his latest experiences on the literary trail This trip through literary history involves many writers including Katherine Mansfield T S Eliot Michael King and Elizabeth Knox The book also includes a series of journal extracts that allow readers to get closer to the mind of the writer his strong personal views about other writers and his deep commitment to the role of criticism in literary life Wordwatching Alex Horne, 2011-07-07 Alex Horne loves words He loves them so much in fact that he's gone on a mental safari and invented some of his own all he needs to do now is get them into the dictionary But as Alex discovers gaining entry into the official lexicon takes more than just a gentle word in the ear of the editor Evidence is required Alex needs what the dictionary authorities call a corpus of examples hard data showing that his new words are in widespread and long term usage by people other than just him and his mum So a corpus he resolves to create no matter what obstacles he might meet on the way This is the ridiculous story of one man's struggle to break into the dictionary From covert word dropping on Countdown to wilfully misinforming young schoolchildren Alex tries it all in his quest for word based stardom Does he succeed Exactly what is a mental safari And are you already using one of Alex's words without realising it You won't regret spending your hard earned honk on this hugely entertaining book Natural History, 1985 New York Times Saturday Book Review Supplement, 1995-06 Warship 2015 John Jordan, 2015-06-15 Warship 2015 is devoted to the design development and service history of the world's combat ships Featuring a broad range of articles from a select panel of distinguished international contributors this latest volume combines original research new book reviews warship notes an image gallery and much more to maintain the impressive standards of scholarship and research from the field of warship history This 37th edition features the usual range of diverse articles including The Battleships of the Patrie Class Postwar Weapons in the Royal Navy The Tragedy of the Submarine Mariotte Known as the Toothbrush and Developments in Modern Carrier Aviation Contributors to Warship 2015 include Michele Cosentino Peter Marland Hans Lengerer and Aidan Dodson Australian Book Review, 1995 The Fox Boy Peter Walker, 2002 Mutual kidnapping between the Maori and the English inhabitants
