Deepening Reforms ,2003 Indonesia experienced another year of modest growth amid a hesitant global recovery and a deteriorating investment climate Significant progress was made in democratization macroeconomic stability and fiscal sustainability but growth did not pick up and progress in poverty reduction stalled Growth remained largely consumption driven as investors increasingly felt the pinch of a cooling investment climate and a weak legal system The Bali bombing threatened to sink hopes for higher growth but that risk has been mitigated thanks to the remarkable resolve the Government has shown in the aftermath of the tragedy The swift action on security a fiscal stimulus and acceleration of structural reforms are likely to limit the damage of the attack That same resolve should now be used to pursue the reforms that can accelerate growth create jobs and further reduce poverty The Government must move now before the elections distract politicians or tempt them into taking popular but harmful measures such as those recently taken in trade The government should stay the course on macroeconomic policies maintain fiscal sustainability revamp the investment climate and rebuild broken institutions in the legal system P i Keys to Successful 21st Century Educational Leadership Michael

Unesco, 2012 This flagship report is a comprehensive review that gives an overall picture of the world's freshwater resources. It analyses pressures from decisions that drive demand for water and affect its availability. It offers tools and response options to help leaders in government, the private sector and civil society address current and future challenges. It suggests ways in which institutions can be reformed and their behaviour modified and explores possible sources of financing for the urgently needed investment in water. The WWDR4 is a milestone within the WWDR series reporting directly on regions and highlighting hotspots and it has been mainstreamed for gender equality. It introduces a thematic approach. Managing Water under Uncertainty and Risk in the context of a world which is changing faster than ever in often unforeseeable ways with increasing uncertainties and risks. It highlights that historical experience will no longer be sufficient to approximate the relationship between the quantities of available water and shifting future demands. Like the earlier editions the WWDR4 also contains country level case studies describing the progress made in meeting water related objectives. The WWDR4 also seeks to show that water has a central role in all aspects of economic development and social welfare and that concerted action via a collective approach of the water using sectors is needed to ensure water's many benefits are maximized and shared equitably and that water related development goals are achieved. The Encyclopaedia Britannica Thomas Spencer

Himalaya Bhishma P. Subedi, 2006 Mediterranean-type Ecosystems R.L. Specht, 1988-08-31 The regions of the world which experience a mediterranean type climate with a cool wet season alternating with a hot dry summer contain some of the world's most attractive landscapes. In the Old World the mediterranean landscapes became the cradle of civilization other mediterranean areas of the world have attracted considerable populations for many centuries. These large human populations have exerted considerable stress on the fragile ecosystems which developed in these sunny but droughted fire prone landscapes. The mediterranean landscape has thus become one of the most threatened in the world. In recent years much has been learned about the structure and function of mediterranean type ecosystems.
