1. Give at least 3 applications that can be used in business? Why?

There are a lot of applications today that businesses can use to monitor and record business transactions. Such applications are the following:

- Microsoft excel- Microsoft excel is a spreadsheet application that has been developed by Microsoft. It is very useful to businesses because it plays various functions. It can be used to record business transactions, calculate the profitability of the business, and create charts and graphs, which are useful because they provide a clearer representation whether the business is earning or not.
- Gmail- Gmail is a free email service provided by Google. It is very useful in business because it serves as an avenue where business owners can communicate with their clients, investors and employees. Furthermore, it expedites the communication process. It enables both the sender and the receiver to respond to and receive the messages quickly. Aside from that, it is most favorable to most businesses, especially to start-ups, because it is free and easy to use.
- Paypal- Paypal is an online payment application that makes paying for things online and sending and receiving money safe and secure. It can be used in business because it enables business owners to have an additional payment system wherein, they can receive their proceeds from sales. Hence, it is more convenient and most especially, it makes the payment process easier for both the owner and its customer.

2. How can information technology help a business?

Information Technology fosters innovation in business. Innovation results in smarter apps, improved data storage, faster processing, and wider information distribution. The development of different online and offline applications such as Microsoft excel, Gmail and Online shop applications such as Amazon, Shopee, Lazada and Alibaba enabled the business world to advance and develop new strategies that can widen their connection and increase their profit. These applications also enable businesses to promote their product to a wider group of people, thereby enabling them to be successful in their business endeavors. With the presence of online shop applications, it is now easier to put up a business, even without having a physical shop. Online shop applications also enable small business, especially the start-ups, to lessen their operating expenses because with online shop, they don't have to rent a physical store to start their operation. Aside from that, the coverage of their business is also enhanced with the presence of online shop platforms because if a business engages with online selling, even people abroad can view and buy their product. As what we can observe today, most successful businesses are now engaging online because they have seen how profitable online selling is. This proves that the formation of online selling through information technology really enabled businesses to increase their connection and profit, and expand globally.

Thus, information technology really helped businesses to succeed by enabling them to promote their products to a wider group of people, widening their business options and by making it possible for them to expand their business globally. These along with other benefits of information Technology are the reasons why we should further advance our knowledge in information technology. Information technology nowadays play a big role in our society and therefore, should be given great importance.
