Chapter-2 Economics

People as Resource

- Human beings perform many activities which can be grouped into economic and non-economic.
Economic Activities: Economic activities refer to those activities of man which are undertaken for a monetary gain or to satisfy his/her wants. The activities of workers, farmers, shopkeepers, manufacturers, doctors, lawyers, taxi drivers, etc. fall under this category.
Non-Economic Activities: Non-economic activities are ones that are not undertaken for any monetary gain. These are also called unpaid activities, e.g., Puja-paath, housekeeping, helping the poor or disabled, etc.
  - Classification of Economic Activities. Various economic activities can be classified into three main sectors, that is primary sector, secondary sector and tertiary sector. The primary sector includes activities like agriculture, forestry, animal husbandry, fishing, poultry, farming and mining. In this sector, goods are produced by exploiting nature. In the secondary sector, manufacturing (small and large) and construction activities are included. The tertiary sector (also called service sector) provides various types of services like transport, education, banking, insurance, health, tourism, etc.
  - Market Activities and Non-Market Activities. Economic activities, i.e. production of goods and services can be classified into market activities and non-market activities. Market activities are performed for remuneration. Non-market activities are the activities carried out for self-consumption.
    - Activities of Women. Women generally look after domestic affairs like cooking of food, washing of clothes, cleaning of utensils, housekeeping and looking after children.
    - Human Capital: Human capital is the stock of skill and productive knowledge embodied in human beings. Population (human beings) become human capital when it is provided with better education, training and health care facilities.
    - People as a Resource: People as resource is a way of referring to a country's workforce in terms of their existing skills and abilities.
    - Human Capital Formation: When the existing human resource is further developed by spending on making the workforce more educated and healthy, it is called human capital formation.
    - Quality of Population: The quality of population depends upon the literacy rate, life expectancy and skills formation acquired by the people of the country.
    - Role of Education: Education is the most important component of human resource development.
In view of its contribution towards the growth of the society, government expenditure on education as a percentage of GDP rose from 0.64% in 1951-52 to 3.98% in 2002-03. However, our national goal is 6% of GDP.

Reflections on the Global Food Crisis Derek Headey, Shenggen Fan, 2010 The dramatic surge in food prices from 2005 to 2008 seriously threatened the world's poor who struggle to buy food even under normal circumstances and led to protests and riots in the developing world The crisis eventually receded but such surges could recur unless steps are taken to prevent them Using up to date information the authors of Reflections on the Global Food Crisis identify the key causes of the food price surge its consequences for global poverty and the challenges involved in preventing another crisis Breaking from many earlier interpretations the authors conclude that the crisis was not primarily fostered by increased demand for meat products in rising economies such as China and India or by declines in agricultural yields or food stocks or by futures market speculation Instead they attribute the rising food prices to a combination of rising energy prices growing demand for biofuels the U S dollar depreciation and various trade shocks related to export restrictions panic purchases and unfavorable weather As part of their analysis the authors also provide the first comprehensive review of both the macroeconomic and microeconomic consequences of the crisis as well as a detailed comparison of the current crisis with the food price crisis of 1974 To prevent another crisis the authors conclude that the global food system should be reformed through several key steps make trade in agricultural commodities more free yet more secure address long term threats to agricultural productivity such as climate change and resource degradation scale up social protection in potentially food insecure countries and encourage agricultural production in at least some of the countries now heavily dependent on food imports Reflections on the Global Food Crisis will be a valuable resource for policymakers development specialists and others concerned with the world s poorest people Getting Started in Security Analysis Peter J. econometric modelling that can be added to modern philosophical thought The notion of structure is thoroughly discussed throughout the book The studies of the consumption function of Trygve Haavelmo Richard Stone Milton Friedman David Hendry and Robert Lucas are taken as the case studies to investigate their methodological implications of model and structure In addition to the semantic view of the scientific theories various philosophical accounts concerning scientific models are used to shed light on the methodological nature of these consumption studies in economics This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of methodology of economics and econometrics as well as anyone interested in the philosophy of science in an economic context Instructors Manual Arthur O'Sullivan, Leonie Stone, 2002-09-02

Macroeconomics Robert Ernest Hall, Marc Lieberman, 2003 Departing from the encyclopedic nature of most Principles texts which encourages students to simply memorize concepts and see economics as a collection of unrelated terms formulas graphs and theories this text provides students with a picture of economics as a unified discipline a set of interrelated tools and ideas that can be used to look at the world in a different way This book's concise less is more approach has been carefully crafted in terms of both content and supporting pedagogy to keep students focused on learning and applying the central ideas used in economic analysis It uniquely employs a simple methodology throughout to emulate how economists look at problems and teaches students how to use this same analytical process in developing their own economic analysis skills Hall Lieberman's careful focus on core theoretical ideas as well as systematically applying the theoretical tools to interesting real world questions conveys the message that economics is an integrated powerful body of knowledge that can be used to address important issues Microeconomics Prentice Hall PTR, 2000-06 The Public Library Magazine St.
