Lesson 1 The Judicial System in Our Democracy

Review Questions

Directions: Locate each heading below in your text. Then use the information under the correct heading and subheading to help you write each answer.

I. Early Systems of Law

- A. What are some key functions of law in democratic societies?

In democratic societies, law resolves conflict between and among individuals and groups and protect individuals against the government. It defines criminal acts and determines the punishments for them.

- B. How have the Code of Hammurabi and the Ten Commandments influenced the American system of law?

The code of Hammurabi categorized crimes and provided 282 examples and their punishments. Today we refer to these categories as criminal law, property law, and family law. The ten commandments become a model for ethical laws.

- C. Why is English common law an important basis of the American legal system?

It is made by judges as they resolve individual cases. Our early colonials studied English sources.

II. Principles of Democracy in the Judiciary

- A. How do the three branches of government—the legislative, executive, and judicial branches—work together to establish laws?

Laws passed by legislative is enforced by the executive branch then the judicial branch interprets the law.

- B. What is the rule of law?

Resources in Education ,1997 Why Religion? Towards a Critical Philosophy of Law, Peace and God Dawid Bunikowski,Alberto Puppo,2020-02-11 This book examines the relation between religion and jurisprudence God and peace respectively It argues that in order to elucidate the possible role religion can play in the contemporary world it is useful to analyse religion by associating it with other concepts Why peace Because peace is probably the greatest promise made by religions and the greatest concern in the contemporary world Why jurisprudence Because quoting Kelsen s famous book Peace through Law peace is usually understood as something achievable by international legal instruments But what if we replace Peace through Law with Peace through Religion Does law as an instrument for achieving peace incorporate a religious dimension Is law ultimately a religious and normative construction oriented to peace to the protection of humanity in order to keep humans from the violence of nature Is the hope for peace rational or just a question of faith Is religion itself a question of faith or a rational choice Is the relatively recent legal concept of responsibility to protect a secular expression of the oldest duty of humankind The book follows the structure of interdisciplinary research in which the international legal scholar the moral philosopher the philosopher of religion the theologian and the political scientist contribute to the construction of the necessary bridges Moreover it gives voice to different monotheistic traditions and more importantly it analyses religion in the various dimensions in which it determines the authors cultures as a set of rituals as a source of moral norms as a universal project for peace and as a political discourse The Democrat ,1919 Littell's Living Age ,1880
