Church Continuity And Unity:

Church, Continuity & Unity Hector Burn-Murdoch, 1945 The Unity of Christ Christopher A. Beeley, 2012-09-25 No period of history was more formative for the development of Christianity than the patristic age when church leaders monks and laity established the standard features of Christianity as we know it today Combining historical and theological analysis Christopher Beeley presents a detailed and far reaching account of how key theologians and church councils understood the most central element of their faith the identity and significance of Jesus Christ Focusing particularly on the question of how Christ can be both human and divine and reassessing both officially orthodox and heretical figures Beeley traces how an authoritative theological tradition was constructed His book holds major implications for contemporary theology church history and ecumenical discussions and it is bound to revolutionize the way in which patristic tradition is understood The Unity and Continuity of the Church William Humphrey, Thomas William Wilkinson, 1891 The Unity and Continuity of the Church. A Sermon [on Eph. Iv. 4], Etc William HUMPHREY (S.J.), 1891 The Unity and Continuity of the Church William Humphrey, 1891 The Reunion of the Church Lesslie Newbigin, 1948 Vatican I and Vatican II Kristin Colberg, 2016 Vatican I and Vatican II represent two of the three ecumenical councils in modern times yet relatively few studies have sought to understand their relation to one another In fact the councils are often positioned as mutually exclusive so that one must choose either Vatican I s or Vatican II s presentations of church and ecclesial authority Failing to understand the relationship between these councils inhibits the church s self understanding and risks misinterpreting key aspects of its own tradition further it limits the church s ability to teach effectively on topics of concern to modern women and men such as authority freedom and ecclesiology Vatican I and Vatican II Councils in the Living Tradition uses the questions of what why and how the councils taught to frame and demonstrate significant points of continuity complementarity and difference between them It argues that only by seeing both Vatican I and Vatican II as communicating vital dimensions of the Christian faith can the church s living tradition be fully appreciated and speak meaningfully to modern Christian women and men

Ecumenical Ecclesiology Gesa Elsbeth Thiessen, 2009-09-15 This is a rich collection of fifteen articles by European North American and Asian theologians who are concerned with the concept life unity and future of the church It offers a wealth of broad perspectives on ecclesiology by scholars from Catholic Protestant and Orthodox backgrounds The first section Perspectives on Ecumenical Ecclesiology comprises reflections on postmodern ecclesiologies as well as on the development and problems concerning ecumenical methods and models of unity The second section Communion Ecclesiology and Otherness provides some pertinent deliberations on how an ecclesiology of communion can integrate otherness In particular Zizioulas communion ecclesiology is critically examined the possibility for a retrieval of Eucharistic theology between Catholics and Orthodox is put forward and Tillard s communion ecclesiology is appraised as offering resources for innerdenominational otherness The final section Ecclesiology in Global Contexts considers critically the possibility of evangelical ecclesiology as an answer to ethnic impaired Christian community The role of the Catholic Church and its values in Europe and vis vis the European Constitution is examined The Church of Nigeria s Constitutional Revision 2005 and its ecclesial ecumenical implications comes into focus and three notable concepts of unity as developed by three Indian scholars S K George John Sadiq and Karem David are evaluated Finally the Japanese diaspora in the States is appraised as a place where a particular Japanese Christian vision could emerge through the internationalist ecclesiology developed by Japanese Christian missionaries Seventeen Lectures on the Study of Medieval and Modern History William Stubbs,1886

Seventeen lectures on the study of medieval and modern history and kindred subjects, delivered at Oxford, 1867-1884 William Stubbs,1887 The Wesleyan-Methodist Magazine ,1883 The Alcester lectures. 'Continuity' or collapse? By canon McCave and J.D. Breen, ed. by J.B. Mackinlay. New (2nd) ed James McCave,1891 Faith and Order Herbert Newell Bate,1927 Encounter ,1957 The Presbyterian ,1903 The Churchman ,1896 The City of the Living God Alexander Richard Eagar,1895 Lux Mundi Charles Gore,1890 The Church Eclectic ,1891 Ecumenism: Theology and History Bernard Lambert,1967 Karl Rahner has been very precise in defining Christianity as the religion of the absolute future but he has left unanswered the question as to what form this Christianity of the future will take Will there be some kind of Super Church embracing all Christians will there be a loose confederation of autonomous Churches will present day confessional groups gradually be replaced by de institutionalized communities of believers will the separation between Christian East and Christian West continue These are some of the questions that constitute what the author calls the ecumenical problem But his very use of the term problem indicates that for this historian theologian there is a solution to the divisions and mutual hostilities that have plagued Christianity
