The Law & Politics of Brexit: Volume IV Federico Fabbrini, 2022-05-02 This book examines the law and politics of the Protocol on Ireland Northern Ireland attached to the Withdrawal Agreement which regulates the terms of Brexit The Protocol on Ireland Northern Ireland deals with the most complex issue which emerged during the withdrawal negotiations between the United Kingdom UK and the European Union EU namely how to avoid a hard border in the island of Ireland and preserve the peace process started in Northern Ireland with the 1998 Belfast Good Friday Agreement To this end the Protocol which was agreed in its final form in October 2019 establishes a bespoke solution notably by keeping Northern Ireland aligned to EU customs and internal market rules Nevertheless the operation of the Protocol which has formally entered into force in January 2021 has stirred political controversies in the Unionist community in Northern Ireland and caused diplomatic confrontation between the EU and the UK The purpose of this book is therefore to provide the first interdisciplinary overview of the Protocol shedding light on its context content and challenges This book which brings together contributions by leading legal scholars political scientists sociologists and trade experts from Northern Ireland Ireland Great Britain Europe and the United States provides a comprehensive and contextual assessment of the Protocol It examines its setting including constitutional trends in the UK and Ireland focuses on its substantive clauses dealing with human rights and cross border cooperation as well as on those related to trade and analyses its governance mechanisms including democratic consent and safeguards

Treaty Shopping in International Investment Law Jorun Baumgartner, 2016-12-01 Treaty shopping also known under the terms of nationality planning corporate re structuring or corporate maneuvering implies a strategic change of nationality or strategic invocation of another nationality with the aim of accessing another usually more favourable investment treaty for purposes of investment arbitration When deciding on whether an investment claim based on treaty shopping should be upheld or dismissed investment arbitral tribunals have been increasingly faced with significant questions such as What is treaty shopping and how may legitimate nationality planning be distinguished from treaty abuse in international investment law Should a claimant that is controlled by a host State national be considered a protected investor or should tribunals pierce its corporate veil Does an investor have to make the investment in good faith and does it have to make a contribution of its own to the investment it is claiming protection for When does a corporate restructuring constitute an abuse of process and which is the role of the notion of dispute in this respect How efficient are denial of benefits clauses to counter treaty shopping Treaty Shopping in International Investment Law examines in a systematic manner the practice of treaty shopping in international investment law and arbitral decisions that have undertaken to draw this line While some legal approaches taken by arbitral tribunals have started to consolidate others remain unsettled painting a picture of an overall inconsistent jurisprudence This is hardly surprising given the thousands of international investment agreements that provide for the investor's right to sue the host State on grounds of alleged breaches of investment obligations This book analyses and discusses the different ways by which arbitral tribunals have dealt with the value judgment at the core of the distinction between objectionable and unobjectionable treaty shopping and makes proposals de lege ferenda on how States could reform their international investment agreements in particular with respect to treaty drafting in order to make them less susceptible to the practice of treaty shopping
