The Implications of Power. What Contemporary Neoconservatives Learned from History Hannes Schweikardt, 2014-03-25. Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject History America grade 1-3. University of Tübingen. Seminar für Zeitgeschichte course. Readings in Recent American Military History SS 2012. Language: English. Abstract: This thesis analyzes 50 central texts from the five neoconservative writers Charles Krauthammer, William Kristol, Robert Kagan, Richard Perle and Norman Podhoretz to portrait their contributions to the public debate about foreign policy after the Cold War. At the heart of the analysis lies the preemptive strike launched on Iraq in March 2003 and its aftermath. All of the authors under research have openly advocated this decision prior to the invasion. One main question for this thesis is therefore how they assessed the actual implementation of the strategy and its consequences. The central Chapter 2 on the assessment of Iraq seeks to answer what they have learned from Iraq Before I can answer this adequately it is necessary to analyze their writings prior to 9 11 and then between 9 11 and the invasion of Iraq I will do this in Chapter 1 and thereby answer the question what broader lessons the authors have learned from history Knowing the answer is necessary to understand why they proposed a preemptive strike on Iraq and what their intentions were Chapter 3 then seeks to connect these insights from Chapter 1 and 2 to shed light on the overall lessons that the authors have learned from their experiences since the end of the Cold War and 8 years of foreign policy under president George W Bush As a result we will have an imperfect yet comprehensive overview of neoconservative thinking on American foreign policy since the end of the Cold War There is a host of literature on different aspects of the Iraq war that also frequently raise the question to what extent decisions in the administration were actively influenced or taken by neoconservatives However I could not find an analysis of neoconservative texts before and after Iraq I therefore claim that there is a mismatch between the acclaimed influence of neoconservatism and the extent to which neoconservative writers assessment of the Iraq war has been analyzed In this thesis I intend to fill this gap with extensive study of original sources instead of secondary literature

Flash Effect David J. Tietge, 2002 Declaring the American Cold War rhetoric of scientific advancement as the new opiate of the masses Tietge writing Monmouth U suggests that American political and cultural institutions used science as an ordering symbolism of hierarchy that expanded the freedom of policy makers and others to pursue their ideologies He examines the propaganda public service announcements training films news media and the popular literature and film of the era in an exploration of how science was projected and accepted as an intellectually untouchable mystical process of obtaining knowledge and truth and projecting ideological rectitude In essence he suggests the Cold War was manufactured as a way of continuing scientific research in general and nuclear arms development in particular Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Nixon's Economy Allen J. Matusow, 1998

Historian Allen J Matusow now presents the first comprehensive history of Nixon's political economy He depicts a president who disliked the subject but was forced to pay attention or lose his dream of effecting a historic realignment of the political parties in America The study derives its authority from extensive archival research in Nixon's presidential papers including notes by Haldeman and Ehrlichman of crucial conversations in the Oval Office Matusow shows the poverty of contemporary economic theory Nixon s willingness to sacrifice the world economy for his domestic political purposes and his desperate attempts to find something anything that might work Lurching from one set of policies to another Matusow argues Nixon achieved only illusory successes that ultimately brought on a decade of economic disaster Kaplan AP World History 2004

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
