

Plate Tectonics- Chapter 1:

Key Words:

- The Moho is a boundary found in the lithosphere which divides the upper mantle and the crust.
- The Lithosphere is broken down into sections called tectonic plates. There are eight major plates and many more small ones.
- Convection Currents: Currents which move through liquids. They move lighter, less dense liquids away from the heat source. They move heavier, more dense liquids towards the heat source.
- Plate Boundary: Zone where plates collide, separate or slide past one another.
- Fault lines: Fractures on the earth's surface where rocks on either side of the crack have slid past one another.

The Earth's Structure:

The outer crust, the earth's outer layer, has two zones: continental crust and oceanic crust.

The mantle is divided into three sections.

- The solid upper mantle is connected to the outer crust. Combined, they form the lithosphere, the earth's rigid outer layer.
- The semi-molten upper mantle, known as the asthenosphere.
- The lower mantle, the hottest part of the mantle.

The outer core consists of hot liquid rock.

The inner core is largely made up of solid nickel and iron. This layer has the highest temperatures.
