Chapter 1section 4 The Implied Powers:

, Oppenheim's International Law: United Nations Rosalyn Higgins, Philippa Webb, Dapo Akande, Sandesh Sivakumaran, James Sloan, 2018-12-13 The United Nations whose specialized agencies were the subject of an Appendix to the 1958 edition of Oppenheim's International Law Peace has expanded beyond all recognition since its founding in 1945 This volume represents a study that is entirely new but prepared in the way that has become so familiar over succeeding editions of Oppenheim An authoritative and comprehensive study of the United Nations legal practice this volume covers the formal structures of the UN as it has expanded over the years and all that this complex organization does All substantive issues are addressed in separate sections including among others the responsibilities of the UN financing immunities human rights preventing armed conflicts and peacekeeping and judicial matters In examining the evolving structures and ever expanding work of the United Nations this volume follows the long held tradition of Oppenheim by presenting facts uncoloured by personal opinion in a succinct text that also offers in the footnotes a wealth of information and ideas to be explored It is book that while making all necessary reference to the Charter the Statute of the International Court of Justice and other legal instruments tells of the realities of the legal issues as they arise in the day to day practice of the United Nations Missions to the UN Ministries of Foreign Affairs practitioners of international law academics and students will all find this book to be vital in their understanding of the workings of the legal practice of the UN Research for this publication was made possible by The Balzan Prize which was awarded to Rosalyn Higgins in 2007 by the International Balzan Foundation Selected Cases in Constitutional Law Harold Edgar Barnes, B. Public Service Commission; New York Central Railroad Company v. Public Service Commission, 349 MICH 663 (1957), 1957 40 41 The Southwestern Reporter, 1922 The Hindu Law Journal, 1923 The Militarisation of Peacekeeping in the Twenty-First Century James Sloan, 2011-11-01 Since the end of the last century UN peacekeeping has undergone a fundamental and largely unexamined change Peacekeeping operations long expected to use force only in self defence and to act impartially are now increasingly relied upon by the Security Council as a means to maintain and restore security within a country. The operations are established under Chapter VII of the UN Charter and some are empowered to use all necessary measures language traditionally reserved for enforcement operations. Through a close examination of these twenty first century peacekeeping operations including operations in Sierra Leone, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Liberia, Côte d'Ivoire, Haiti and the Darfur region of the Sudan, the book shows that they are for the most part fundamentally ill suited to the enforcement type tasks being asked of them. The operations which are under funded, under equipped and whose troops are under trained frequently lurch from crisis to crisis. There is scant evidence some 10 years on that matters are likely to improve. The book argues that bestowing enforcement type functions on a peacekeeping operation is misconceived. Such operations are likely to be unsuccessful in their enforcement type tasks, thereby causing serious damage to the excellent reputation of UN peacekeeping and the UN more broadly. In addition, because such operations are more likely to be perceived as partial, their ability to carry out traditional non forceful peacekeeping tasks may be impeded. Finally, the Security Council's practice of charging peacekeeping operations with enforcement functions lessens the pressure on the Council to work to establish genuine enforcement operations, i.e. operations that are considerably better suited to restoring peace and security. Dr Sloan is able to show in knowledgeable detail not only what has changed over the years but also what has brought these changes about. His analysis leads him to offer not only well informed insights but critical observations too. This book is a pleasing combination of detailed scrutiny of topics already familiar, provisional measures, consent so called Chapter VII 2 action implied powers and a rigorous questioning as to their place in or indeed relevance at all to militarised peacekeeping. The reader will find much new terrain traversed and plenty of out of the box thinking. From the foreword by Dame Rosalyn Higgins.
