Chapter 26 Cold War Conflicts Ppt:

The New Cold War Edward Lucas, 2008-02-19 Presents an assessment of the Putin era which has turned back many of the democratic gains of the previous years in Russia and has established an autocratic government determined to regain military strength and prestige and exploit the Western preoccupation with the Middle East Twilight War Mike

Moore, 2008-03-03 Considering the historical background of space militarization and providing an overview of the United States efforts to militarily dominate space since the dawn of the space age this book argues that America must either ensure that space related weapons are verifiably banned for all nations through an international treaty or definitively choose a policy of unilateral space dominance that may lead to an arms race in space and possibly to another cold war The 1967 Outer Space Treaty designated space as the province of all mankind It expressly prohibited nuclear and non nuclear weapons of mass destruction in orbital space and exclusively limited the use of the Moon and other celestial bodies for peaceful purposes But changes in the post Cold War world as well as unforeseeable advances in satellite and weapons technologies have compelled every space faring nation save the U S and Israel to go on record as favoring a new treaty for the Prevention of an Arms Race in Outer Space In Twilight War The Folly of U S Space Dominance Mike Moore former editor of The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists argues that the U S merely provokes conflict when it presumes to be the exception to the rule Rejecting treaty negotiations while further militarizing space renders America unable to lead by example Moore concludes that instead of trying to stop an arms race in space by starting one the U S must radically rethink its strategy Strategic Forum ,1994

Ready to Lead? Robin Niblett, 2009 This report by Director of Chatham House Dr Robin Niblett draws on Chatham House's international expertise and contacts to offer an in depth analysis of President Obama administration's ambitions to renew US leadership in the world The report explores how the Obama administration can promote US global leadership at a time when many of the pillars of its international role have been weakened Looking at how the US will need to craft new ways of using its unique power and capacity to influence others the report's key conclusions are as follows America needs to change how it uses its power by sharing leadership where partners have as much or more to offer America needs to focus less on its opponents and more on supporting its friends and allies in Europe Latin America the Middle East and Asia America needs to place less emphasis on individual leaders and parties and more on governance and political processes American

After World War II the major powers faced social upheaval at home and anticolonial wars around the globe Alarmed by conflict in Korea that could change U S Soviet relations from chilly to nuclear ordinary people and policymakers created a fantasy of a bipolar Cold War world in which global and domestic order was paramount Masuda Hajimu shows Stalin's

Levine, 2005-07-15 This military and political history of the Korean War endeavors to give a fresh and less than fashionable account of the war Utilizing both immediately postwar impressions and newly available evidence from Communist sources it places the events in Korea into the larger framework of the early 1950s period of the Cold War Provided by publisher

Fearing the Worst Samuel F. Wells Jr., 2019-11-26 After World War II the escalating tensions of the Cold War shaped the international system Fearing the Worst explains how the Korean War fundamentally changed postwar competition between the United States and the Soviet Union into a militarized confrontation that would last decades Samuel F Wells Jr examines how military and political events interacted to escalate the conflict Decisions made by the Truman administration in the first six months of the Korean War drove both superpowers to intensify their defense buildup American leaders feared the worst case scenario that Stalin was prepared to start World War III and raced to build up strategic arms resulting in a struggle they did not seek out or intend Their decisions stemmed from incomplete interpretations of Soviet and Chinese goals especially the belief that China was a Kremlin puppet Yet Stalin Mao and Kim Il sung all had their own agendas about which the United States lacked reliable intelligence Drawing on newly available documents and memoirs including previously restricted archives in Russia China and North Korea Wells analyzes the key decision points that changed the course of the war He also provides vivid profiles of the central actors as well as important but lesser known figures Bringing together studies of military policy and diplomacy with the roles of technology intelligence and domestic politics in each of the principal nations Fearing the Worst offers a new account of the Korean War and its lasting legacy
