English as a Medium of Instruction in Postcolonial Contexts Lizzi O. Milligan,Leon Tikly,2018-10-16

Almost all low and middle income postcolonial countries now use English or another dominant language as the medium of instruction for some if not all of the basic education cycle Much of the literature about language in education in such countries has focused on the instrumentalist value of English on one side and the rights of learners to high quality mother tongue based education on the other The polarised nature of the debate has tended to leave issues related to the processes of learning in English as a Medium Instruction EMI classrooms under researched This book aims to provide a greater understanding of the existing challenges for learners and educators and potential strategies that can support more effective teaching and learning in EMI classrooms Contributions illustrate the impact that learning in English has on learners in a range of regional national and local contexts and put forward theoretical and empirical analyses to support more relevant and inclusive educational policies This volume was originally published as a special issue of Comparative Education

Let the Children Play Pasi Sahlberg, William Doyle, 2020-10-22 According to a professional association of 67 000 pediatricians the lifelong success of children is based on their ability to be creative and to apply the lessons learned from playing But play including physical activity the arts and even free play is being eliminated in our society and schools and despite huge financial investment these education policies have not improved learning In Let the Children Play the authors both fathers of school age children tell how switching countries Pasi Sahlberg brought his Finnish family to the United States while William Doyle brought his American family to Finland shocked them into writing this book With research breakthroughs and case histories from Finland China Singapore Scotland New York Texas and around the world the authors reveal how intellectual and physical play is the ultimate engine of transforming education the key to giving our children the well being happiness and skills they need to thrive in the 21st century including curiosity creativity teamwork problem solving communication and empathy
