

Chapter 9: Cellular Respiration and Fermentation

- 9.1 Explain how the redox reactions of catabolic pathways yield energy by oxidizing organic fuels.
- 9.2 Trace the pathway of glucose oxidation during glycolysis.
- 9.3 Describe the oxidation of pyruvate and the process by which further oxidation occurs in the citric acid cycle.
- 9.4 Identify the steps of oxidative phosphorylation and account for the total ATP produced per glucose molecule during cellular respiration.
- 9.5 Name two types of fermentation and explain how they result in ATP production.
- 9.6 Use examples to illustrate the interactions of glycolysis and the citric acid cycle with other metabolic pathways.

Although this is a challenging topic, it will give you the background necessary to understand much about energy transfer at the cellular level. Each concept builds on the previous concept, so take your time working through the figures and text, and you will find you have mastered a difficult area of biology when you finish.

Study Tip: Before getting involved with the details of cellular respiration, take a second to look at the big picture as shown in Figure 9.1. Both photosynthesis (the topic for Chapter 10) and cellular respiration are key ecological concepts involved with energy flow. Use Figure 9.1 to label the indicated parts in the following figure.

The authors have restructured each chapter around a conceptual framework of five or six big ideas. An Overview draws students in and sets the stage for the rest of the chapter; each numbered Concept Head announces the beginning of a new concept, and Concept Check questions at the end of each chapter encourage students to assess their mastery of a given concept. New Inquiry Figures focus students on the experimental process, and new Research Method Figures illustrate important techniques in biology. Each chapter ends with a Scientific Inquiry Question that asks students to apply scientific investigation skills to the content of the chapter.

Until now, only a small portion of the relevant science has influenced the decision-making arenas where the future of our landscapes is debated and decided. The authors explain specific tools and concepts to measure a landscape's structure, form, and change over time. Metrics studied include patch richness, class area, proportion, patch number, and density, mean patch size, shape, radius of gyration, contagion, edge contrast nearest neighbor distance and proximity These measures will help planners and conservationists make better land use decisions for the future      Fish Habitat Ecology and Conservation Fisheries Society of the British Isles. Annual Symposium, 2005
