Generation Earn Kimberly Palmer, 2010-10-12 As a young professional today, you are part of a generation with greater earning power and more advanced degrees than preceding ones, along with a fresh holistic outlook on financial success. Yes, you might have taken out more debt than previous generations, but that doesn't mean you're a slacker living off credit cards and takeout, as media pundits would have people believe. Kimberly Palmer, the Alpha Consumer columnist for US News World Report, frequently receives questions from twenty-thirty and forty-something readers like you about making smart, sustainable life choices, including: What should I be doing with my savings? Should I take on freelance jobs? Where should I invest my money? Should I buy a house or keep renting? Does it make sense to share a mortgage with my significant other? Can I afford a baby? How can I support the causes I believe in? Should I start a nonprofit? In Generation Earn, Palmer answers these questions and many more in three parts. Part one centers on the self: covering professional goals, personal spending, debt management, and investing. Part two focuses on creating a home, including renting, mortgages, marriage, and saving for a baby. Part three addresses the world at large, including green spending, sustainable donating, and supporting nonprofits. Add it
