The British Regulatory State Michael Moran, 2003 For the first two thirds of the twentieth century British government was among the most stable in the advanced industrial world In the last three decades the governing arrangements have been in turmoil and the country has been a pioneer in economic reform and in public sector change In his major new book Michael Moran examines and explains the contrast between these two epochs What turned Britain into a laboratory of political innovation Britain became a formal democracy at the start of the twentieth century but the practice of government remained oligarchic From the 1970s this oligarchy collapsed under the pressure of economic crisis The British regulatory state is being constructed in its place Moran challenges the prevailing view that this new state is liberal or decentralizing Instead he argues that it is a new threatening kind of interventionist state which is colonizing dominating and centralizing hitherto independent domains of civil society The book is essential reading for all those interested in British political development and in the nature and impact of regulation Automotive Executive ,1992 Crossing the Congo Mike Martin,Chloe Baker,Charlie Hatch-Barnwell,2016-12-01 Three friends make the North South crossing of the Congo Basin in a 25 year old Land Rover This book recounts their thrilling journey including tales of makeshift surgery in the jungle building rafts and bridges to cross rivers and playing tribal politics Training in the Motor Vehicle Repair and Sales Sector in Ireland European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training,1995 A study viewed the existing motor vehicle sector structure and trading conditions and identified and analyzed the best and most significant continuing vocational training practices in Ireland In 1991 the motor vehicle sector accounted for 6.2 percent of the Gross National Product Employment in the sector has decreased from an estimated 24 000 in 1988 to 17 000 in 1992 The impact of legislation on the Irish motor industry was significant requiring those engaged in the industry to cope with a wide variety of laws and statutory instruments The industry has been well served by the statutory scheme for apprentices Companies involved in four case studies were a component manufacturer Nissan Ford and Volkswagen Audi Each case study described the case the firm providers of continuing vocational education training policy of the firm evaluation of the training concepts and conclusions in relation to best practice and normal practice The case studies demonstrated the organization of work at distributor level was very professional At no time in the history of the motor industry in Ireland did polarization of skills within trades occur all round skills were found necessary for the survival of the dealership The relationship between franchise dealers and the distributors was very good The only regulated training was apprenticeship Indicated trends were static or slightly increased employment in the motor vehicle sector and training needs that correspond to the overall development of vehicle technology and design YLB Planning ,2009 The Motor Industry of Great Britain Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders,2005 Serials in the British Library ,2008 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
