Tabor Church Minutes, Barren County, Kentucky Sandra Kaye Laughery Gorin,1994 Giving Glory to God in Appalachia Howard Dorgan,1990-11-08 In Giving Glory to God in Appalachia Howard Dorgan explores the worship practices of Primitive Regular Old Regular Union Missionary and Free Will Baptists The worship practices of the denominations under consideration are varied and often

exuberant and Dorgan's writing is highly evocative conveying in rich detail the joy and pathos of worship in these mountain churches As Dorgan states in the introduction he is less concerned with academic theorizing and more concerned with presenting a vivid firsthand account of all that he has seen and heard And in the nearly fifteen years he spent researching his book Dorgan saw and heard quite a lot spirited vociferous sermons creek baptisms foot washings homecomings dinners on the ground and evangelistic radio broadcasts Dorgan's prose is at its most enchaining when he presents tableaux of these phenomena a foot washing precipitates the erasure of interpersonal turmoil between two women a preacher uses his lively mode of sermonic delivery to orchestrate the rapturous shouts and hollers of a group of women a radio evangelist exhorts a recent widower to accept salvation The wonderful pictures interspersed throughout the book and the transcription of sermons help to further reify the worship scenes that Dorgan describes At times Dorgan's prose is intensely personal Dorgan is always aware that he is writing about sets of shared values and worship practices that mean a great deal to the congregations he is studying and Dorgan treats his subjects and their beliefs with tremendous sensitivity and respect Ultimately Dorgan is writing about people and the ways in which they invest their lives with meaning and purpose This imbues Giving Glory to God in Appalachia with a universal appeal even readers who find the religious settings in the book completely alien will be able to sympathize with the congregations search for meaning
