

Ebola Virus Disease

Ebola is most feared for the internal and external bleeding it can cause in victims owing to damage done to blood vessels.

It was discovered in 1976, and since then the majority of the outbreaks have appeared in parts of Africa.

At least 12,800 deaths have occurred globally since 1976.

The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe, Tanure Ojaide, 2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African

Diasporic Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors. Covering works produced in Europe, North America, and elsewhere in the world, this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature: the Sankofan wave (late 1960s–early 1990s), the Janusian wave (1990s–2020s), and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants (those born and growing up outside Africa). Written by well-established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world, the chapters in the book cover the works of well-known and not so well-known Anglophone, Francophone, and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches, pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature. The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration, which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings. This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature, Diaspora Studies, African Studies, Migration Studies, and Postcolonial Studies.

Killer Virus R. A. Montgomery, 1997 First you get a skull-crunching headache. Then your eyes turn red. Blood bubbles from your mouth and eye sockets. These are the symptoms of a deadly new virus, and they are always followed by death. You and your uncle are traveling with a team of doctors, scientists, and veterinarians to the hot zone where this new virus has struck. Together you will try to discover the source of the virus and help those already stricken with it. Could the virus be the deadly Ebola? Or something far worse.
