User's Guide is an introduction to the Federal Aviation Administration's FAA aeronautical charts and publications. It is useful to new pilots as a learning aid and to experienced pilots as a quick reference guide. The FAA is the source for all data and information utilized in the publishing of aeronautical charts through authorized publishers for each stage of Visual Flight Rules (VFR) and Instrument Flight Rules (IFR) air navigation including training, planning, and departures enroute for low and high altitudes, approaches, and taxiing charts. Digital charts are available online at VFR Charts https://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/flight_info/aeronav/digital_products/vfr IFR Charts https://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/flight_info/aeronav/digital_products/ifr Terminal Procedures Publication http://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/flight_info/aeronav/digital_products/dtpp Chart Supplements https://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/flight_info/aeronav/digital_products/dafd. Paper copies of the charts are available through an FAA Approved Print Provider. A complete list of current providers is available at http://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/flight_info/aeronav/print_providers. The FAA Aeronautical Information Manual (AIM), Pilot Controller Glossary, defines in detail all terms and abbreviations used throughout this publication. Unless otherwise indicated, miles are nautical miles (NM); altitudes indicate feet above Mean Sea Level (MSL) and times used are Coordinated Universal Time (UTC). The Notices to Airmen Publication (NOTAM) includes current Flight Data Center (FDC) NOTAMs, alerting pilots of new regulatory requirements and reflecting changes to Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs), flight restrictions, and aeronautical chart revisions. This publication is prepared every 28 days by the FAA and is available by subscription from the Government Printing Office. For more information on subscribing or to access online PDF copy, http://www.faa.gov/air_traffic/publications/notices. In addition to NOTAMs, the Chart Supplement and the Safety Alerts Charting Notices page of the Aeronautical Information Services website are also useful to pilots.

Choice, 2003. Mission Adaptive Display Technologies and Operational Decision Making in Aviation. Smith, Kevin M., Larrieu, Stéphane, 2015-08-04. Avionics often serves as the tip of the spear for research into user interface and systems usability in aviation. However, this emphasis on flashy technology-driven design can come with a cost: the sacrifice of practical utility, which in the high-stakes environment of military aviation can lead directly to catastrophe. Mission Adaptive Display Technologies and Operational Decision Making in Aviation explores the use of adaptive and assistive technologies in aviation to establish clear guidelines for the design and implementation of such technologies to better serve the needs of both military and civilian pilots. Benefiting from the authors' combined experience of more than 40 years in the aviation industry and over 25,000 flight hours, this volume targets a wide audience of engineers and business professionals. This premier reference source covers topics of interest to aviators and engineers, including aerodynamic systems design, operational decision theory, user interface design, avionics, and concepts and cases in flight operations, mission performance, and pilot training.
