Vickers, 2021-10-25 From the late seventeenth century until the Dutch conquest of the early twentieth Century Bali was ruled by a set of competing kingdoms This study of the Balinese text Kidung Malat is the first work in Indonesian historical studies to analyse the main ideology of these Balinese kingdoms It does so by demonstrating how the performance and presentation of the text presented an image of the ideal prince to both rulers and subjects The Kidung Malat exemplifies courtly ideology through its descriptions of the adventures of kings and princes from the era of the medieval kingdoms of East Java It is one of the longest and most complex of a set of narratives called Pa ji stories which originated in East Java and spread throughout Southeast Asia This book is also the first extensive historical analysis of a Pa ji story combining textual analysis with the study of the gambuh dance drama in which the Malat is performed and comparing these forms with paintings and other manifestations of the text Following the Cap-Figure in Majapahit Temple Reliefs Lydia Kieven, 2013-07-18 This title is available online in its entirety in Open Access This publication provides a new understanding of the religious function of the East Javanese temples The study of the cap figures and their symbolism yields an outstanding contribution to the uniqueness of Majapahit culture Critical Reflections on Religion and Media in Contemporary Bali Richard Fox, 2010-12-17 Scholars of religion have always worked closely with media of one kind or another from sacred books and archaic languages to cassette sermons and the Internet Yet comparatively little attention has been paid to the ways we actually use these and other media in the pursuit of historical inquiry Drawing on ethnographic and archival research conducted on the Indonesian island of Bali this book offers a critique of the media related assumptions underpinning fields as diverse in their subject matter and approach as the history of religions British cultural studies and Old Javanese philology Its central contention is that more nuanced attention to problems of media will have serious implications for how we think about the study of religions past and present The Unknown Balinese Ingela Gerdin,1982 Fieldiana ,1995 Australian Literary Studies Laurie Hergenhan,1996 Indonesian Chronology J.
