Back From The Brink The Autobiography:

Back from the Brink Paul McGrath, 2010-12-15 The extraordinary and heartbreaking memoir from one of football's greatest players Paul McGrath is Ireland's best loved sportsman and also its least understood. An iconic football presence during a professional career stretching over 14 years he played for his country in the European Championship finals of 1988 and the World Cup finals of 1990 and 1994. But behind the implied glamour of life in the employ of great English clubs like Manchester United and Aston Villa McGrath wrestled with a range of destructive emotions that made his success in the game little short of miraculous. That story has until now never been told. It is a story that runs from a hard hidden childhood spent in Dublin's orphanages all the way to the pain of two marriage break ups and the struggle to cope with life after football. Quite apart from his all too public struggle with alcoholism the story runs through the surreal highs and calamitous lows of a life lived habitually on the edge of chaos. It is not just a football story. It is an extraordinary human story that is certain to surprise with its candour. Here for the first time read about the father he never met the mother whose love never died the routine loneliness and ritual bullying endured by a black kid growing up behind closed doors in 1960s Dublin the emotional breakdown suffered on leaving that institution the recovery that remarkably brought him all the way to Old Trafford the rollercoaster ride that followed. Here the guilt fear self loathing are all laid bare in a story fired with hope and determination for the future. It may well be the most candid sports book ever written.

Miles Davis and American Culture Gerald Lyn Early, 2001 His music provoked discussion of art versus commerce the relationship of artist to audience and the definition of jazz itself. Whether the topic is race fashion or gender relations the cultural debate about Davis's life remains a confluence.

Just Mary: A Political Memoir From Mary O'Rourke Mary O'Rourke, 2012-10-12 In this memoir Mary O'Rourke writes with remarkable candidness and humour of personal and political events of the many senior political figures with whom she worked including Charles Haughey and Bertie Ahern of her life with her beloved husband Enda of her two dear Brians both of whom died before their time of her successes and disappointments. She does all this with honesty energy and an absence of self pity or self justification. The book is like the woman herself open warm and frank.

From Broke To Brexit Michael Burton, 2021-09-30 Perhaps the most extraordinary period in modern British history the years between the Great Recession and Brexit have often been dubbed the lost decade because of the economic and political turmoil caused by those two great events. Michael Burton outlines how the first led to the second assisted by a rare confluence of other often unrelated social and political factors that delivered the shock Leave verdict in the EU referendum of 2016. These included the longstanding grievances of voters in former industrial areas feeling left behind by globalism stagnant incomes after the recession austerity the rise of social media the refugee and Eurozone crisis in Europe the deep split in the Conservative and Labour parties over the EU and rising wealth inequalities. The author also charts the chaotic political landscape that ended in the final Brexit deal. This book is ideal for the general reader as well as for students of politics history and economics needing a concise and well explained account of this turbulent period in British history Back from the Brink Alistair Darling,2012 Alistair Darling s number one Sunday Times bestselling memoirs now available in paperback updated with a new introduction How Do Leaders Make Decisions? Alex Mintz,Dmitry (Dima) Adamsky,2019-09-23 Understanding how leaders make foreign policy and national security decisions is of paramount importance for the policy community and academia This book explores how leaders such as Trump Obama Netanyahu and others make decisions using the Applied Decision Analysis ADA method
