An Unfortunate Christmas Murder Hannah Hendy, 2022-08-18 'Tis the season for gold frankincense and murder! It's winter in the small town of Dewstow and Margery is preparing for her first Christmas as Summerview school's kitchen manager. She's supported by her wife Clementine and is trying to stay focused on the task at hand. The pair are determined to stay out of the way of the Christmas concert planning that has gripped the rest of the staff. However, they are caught in the crossfire when the stage lights collapse at the first practice killing Mrs Large, the music teacher. Mrs Smith, the Head of Drama, is the prime suspect and is desperate for the Dinner Lady Detectives to clear her name. Mrs Smith is convinced that it's sabotage by her rival Mrs Blossom, the drama teacher at Ittonvale Secondary, but there's evidence that points to her own misdeeds. Can Margery and Clementine trust their friend? And when things start to heat up in the kitchen, will they make it out in time? A charming and festive British village mystery perfect for fans of Robert Thorogood and Fiona Leitch. Praise for The Dinner Lady Detectives: This cosy crime novel has some hilarious moments and is perfect to curl up with. Heat: A brilliant read. Bella: A brilliant whodunnit. Closer: The plot is great, the character cast is spot on, and the dialogue and humor is so quick, smart, and addictive. Margery and Clem play off one another brilliantly. I cannot wait to read the next book, please say there will be one, and highly recommend this gem. NetGalley review. If you are after a gentle and amusing read, this will not disappoint. Reader review: Heaps of fun! I found myself laughing out loud at some of the absurdities and the chaos that surrounded Clementine and Margery. Reader review. An Ecology of Knowledges Micha Rahder, 2020-04-24 Guatemala's Maya Biosphere Reserve (MBR), the largest protected area in Central America, is characterized by rampant violence, social and ethnic inequality, and rapid deforestation. Faced with these threats, local residents, conservationists, scientists, and NGOs in the region work within what Micha Rahder calls an ecology of knowledges, in which interventions on the MBR landscape are tied to differing and sometimes competing forms of knowing. In this book, Rahder examines how technoscience, endemic violence, and an embodied love of wild species and places shape conservation practices in Guatemala. Rahder highlights how different forms of environmental knowledge emerge from encounters and relations between humans and nonhumans, institutions, and local actors, and how situated ways of knowing impact conservation practices and natural places, often in unexpected and unintended ways. In so doing, she opens up new ways of thinking about the complexities of environmental knowledge and conservation in the context of instability, inequality, and violence around the world.
