Joy, S. Janakarajan, 2018-11-01 When it comes to water we flush and forget. We use, abuse, and almost never recycle. Water sector in India since the 1990s has seen some new ideas formalised legally and institutionally while others are still emerging and evolving. Confronting the reality of current water management strategies, this volume discusses the state of the Indian water sector to uncover solutions that can address the imminent water crises. This book analyses the growing water insecurity, increase in demand, inefficiency in water use, and growing inequalities in accessing clean water. It sheds light on water footprint in agricultural, industrial, and urban use; pressures on river basin management; depleting groundwater resources; patterns of droughts and floods; watershed-based development; and waste water and sanitation management. It examines water conflicts, lack of participatory governance mechanisms, and suggests an alternative framework for water regulation and conflict transformation. Highlights the relationship between gender discourse and water governance. Presents an alternative agenda for water sector reforms. This volume, with hopes for a more water-secure future, will interest scholars and researchers of development studies, environment studies, public policy, political studies, political sociology, and NGOs, media, and think tanks working in this area.

Application of Low Cost Ceramic Membranes in Wastewater Treatment Sibdas Bandyopadhyay, 2025-05-01 This book reviews the status of developing tailor-made low-cost membranes and membrane-based separation processes for applications in wastewater treatment. It also presents an overview of industry-specific case studies upholding the waste-to-resource strategy for utilization of low-cost ceramic membranes in industrial wastewater treatment. This book highlights methods, results, and examples demonstrating that low-cost ceramic membranes possess similar features and advantages comparable to the commercially available ceramic membranes, thereby minimizing the prohibitive cost of their usage in wastewater treatment. Thus, the readers who are looking for more economical alternatives for wastewater treatment can be introduced with the cheaper membrane materials. It also discusses the selection and method of application of such membranes in the treatment processes. This book can serve as a valuable reference for researchers and professionals interested in wastewater treatment and allied fields.

Critical Analysis of Domestic Waste Management Regulations in Rwanda Muhire Faustin, 2022-08-04 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2022 in the subject Law Public Law Miscellaneous grade 80 University of Rwanda University of Rwanda course Law language English abstract This study was brought in by the searcher after he found that loads of domestic waste are seen in various villages along the roads, forests, riversides, and many other open spaces in Rwanda. People in Rwanda still dispose of domestic waste in inappropriate places which constitutes a crucial problem to human health in particular and to environment in general The researcher wanted to legally explore why the said malpractices still exist despite the good achievements and ambitions to deal with waste management in Rwanda The research had five objectives to examine whether the existing environmental laws are effective enough to protect environment and human health against negative effects of domestic waste in Rwanda 1 assess if the current Rwandan environmental laws establish standards that are efficient in domestic waste management 2 discuss the processes that are currently followed from collection to disposal and examine their effectiveness 3 examine the role played by different institutions involved in domestic waste management and its efficiency 4 and to finally suggest areas of improvement basing on lessons drawn from countries that have advanced legislation governing domestic waste management 5 To respond to the objectives of the study the researcher used different legal research methods and the following was revealed The existing Rwandan environmental legal framework does not regulate management of domestic wastes effectively standards established by Rwandan environmental laws are limited in domestic waste management and the processes used from collection to disposal of domestic waste management are inadequately regulated It was also revealed that there is limited role inefficiency of different institutions intervening in domestic waste management Urban Panorama,2015 Urbanization and the urban scenario in India
