If Women Counted Marilyn Waring, 1989 This is a revolutionary and powerfully argued feminist analysis of modern economics revealing how woman's housework caring of the young sick and the old is automatically excluded from value in economic theory. The author has also written Women Politics and Power

Counting for Nothing Marilyn Waring, 1999-12-15 Safe drinking water counts for nothing. A pollution free environment counts for nothing. Even some people namely women count for nothing. This is the case at least according to the United Nations System of National Accounts. Author Marilyn Waring former New Zealand M P now professor development consultant writer and goat farmer isolates the gender bias that exists in the current system of calculating national wealth. As Waring observes in this accounting system women are considered non producers and as such they cannot expect to gain from the distribution of benefits that flow from production. Issues like nuclear warfare environmental conservation and poverty are likewise excluded from the calculation of value in traditional economic theory. As a result public policy determined by these same accounting processes inevitably overlooks the importance of the environment and half the world's population. Counting for Nothing originally published in 1988 is a classic feminist analysis of women's place in the world economy brought up to date in this reprinted edition including a sizeable new introduction by the author. In her new introduction the author updates information and examples and revisits the original chapters with appropriate commentary. In an accessible and often humorous manner Waring offers an explanation of the current economic systems of accounting and thoroughly outlines ways to ensure that the significance of the environment and the labour contributions of women receive the recognition they deserve Stories of Progressive Institutional Change Deborah M. Figart, 2017-06-25 This Palgrave Pivot presents a series of political economy short stories of collective agency weaving together the history of a progressive change with a discussion of the role of institutions to effect change These stories highlight sustained activism around valuing caring ending discrimination protecting the environment improving worker well being and reimagining ways to encourage local economic development by restoring public private social balance Ultimately these stories demonstrate that challenges to the neoliberal economy are possible Neoliberalism can be viewed as a value structure that is undermining sustainable human development by elevating the level of risk experienced in daily economic life Its hallmarks are globalization market liberalization deregulation financialization cutbacks in social provisioning through the public sector and restructuring of labor markets in ways that increase instability Social movements have responded agitating for change The stories here provide examples of how social actors engage in collective behavior to advance the objectives of economic justice democratic participation in economic life and human development A Care Crisis in the Nordic Welfare States? Lise Lotte Hansen, Hanne Marlene Dahl, Laura Horn, 2023-05-09 Academic experts review the impact of neoliberal politics and ideology on the status of care work in Nordic countries

Co-Designing Economies in Transition Vincenzo Mario Bruno Giorgino, Zack Walsh, 2018-01-02 This transdisciplinary volume puts forward proposals for wiser socially just and sustainable socio economic systems in transition There is growing support for the view that the end of capitalism is around the corner but on which conceptual and ethical basis can we interpret these times With investigations into feminist economics post growth environmentalism socio technical digital design collaborative and commons economics the editors create a dialogue between radical knowledge practices and contemplative social sciences to transgress disciplinary boundaries and implement new visions of reality This important book challenges our ways of thinking and outlines a pathway for new research Chapter 13 of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com

Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy, Petra Bueskens, 2020-01-28 This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today The contributors cover pregnancy birth relationships childcare domestic violence time use work welfare policy and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives Utilising a matricentric feminist framework Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences emotions and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia which will be relevant to researchers advocates and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society

always being made based on values not facts Thirty years ago Marilyn Waring's groundbreaking book Counting for Nothing was released Waring explained through meticulous economic analysis how the success of the global economy rests on women's unpaid work Counting for Nothing became a phenomenon it was read and discussed around the world and even made into a film Today many people hope that the shift to a wellbeing approach moving beyond narrow economic indicators when assessing New Zealand's progress will mean women's work is finally valued fairly But what does Marilyn Waring make of it This short book provides an essential assessment of wellbeing economics from a leading feminist scholar The Economic Injustice of Maternal Mortality Eileen Kerwin Jones, 2008 Economic Injustice of Maternal Mortality A Feminist Ethical Analysis Sociological Abstracts, 1991 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Counting for Nothing Marilyn Waring, 1988 Women's work fuels the economies of every country in the world Yet no value is placed on this labour Marilyn Waring analyses economics from a feminist perspective and explores the implications of discounting the work of half the world's population Book Review Index Cumulation Dana Ferguson, 2005-09 Book Review Index provides quick access to reviews of books periodicals books on tape and electronic media representing a wide range of popular academic and professional interests The up to date coverage wide scope and inclusion of citations for both newly published and older materials make Book Review Index an exceptionally useful reference tool More than 600 publications are indexed including journals and national general interest publications and newspapers Book Review Index is available in a three issue subscription covering the current year or as an annual cumulation covering the past year Drum, 1997 New Books on Women and Feminism, 2000 Bowker's Complete Video Directory, 2000 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1992 Marilyn Waring Marilyn Waring, 2019-05-10 In 1975 Marilyn Waring was elected to the New Zealand Parliament as the MP for Raglan Aged just twenty three she was one of only a few female MPs who served through the turbulent years of Muldoon's government For nine years Waring was at the centre of major political decisions until her parliamentary career culminated during the debate over nuclear arms When Waring informed Muldoon that she intended to cross the floor and vote for the opposition bill which would make New Zealand nuclear free he called a snap election And the government fell This is an autobiographical account of Waring's extraordinary years in parliament She tells the story of her journey from being elected as a new National Party MP in a conservative rural seat to being publicly decried by the Prime Minister for her feminist anti nuclear stance that threatened to bring down his government Her tale of life in a male dominated and relentlessly demanding political world is both uniquely of its time and still of pressing relevance today Feminist Economics and the World Bank Edith Kuiper, Drucilla Barker, 2006-05-02 The past decade has witnessed a paradigm shift at the World Bank from a focus on structural adjustment to a focus on poverty reduction As evidenced by the Bank's 2001 report Engendering Development Through Rights Resource and Voice an increased attention to gender issues has been an important part of this process This book brings together a range of responses from feminist economists and other social researchers on the issues raised in this report With contributions from highly esteemed scholars such as Eudine Barriteau Diane Elson Gale Summerfield and Zafiris Tzannatos this anthology critically examines the relationships between gender growth development and the World Bank by developing a history of the World Bank's perspectives on gender empirically evaluating the impacts of the Bank's policies on three different regions of the world exploring the ideological and methodological commitments of the report from a variety of feminist and interdisciplinary social science perspectives enquiring into future directions for feminist economics research Highlighting the importance and challenge of taking gender into account in development theory and policy this book's complex and nuanced analyses of the social relations of gender in a global context make it an important resource for policymakers activists and scholars alike
