Crisis in the Nordic Nations and Beyond Kristín Loftsdóttir, Lars Jensen, 2014 The City Since 9/11 Keith Wilhite, 2016-03-04 Charting the intersection of aesthetic representation and the material conditions of urban space The City Since 9 11 posits that the contemporary metropolis provides a significant context for reassessing theoretical concerns related to narrative identity home and personal precarity In the years since the September 11 attacks writers and filmmakers have explored urban spaces as contested sites shaped by the prevailing discourses of neoliberalism homeland security and the war on terror but also haunted by an absence in the landscape that registers loss and prefigures future menace In works of literature film and television the city emerges as a paradoxical space of permanence and vulnerability and a convergence point for anxieties about globalization structural inequality and apocalyptic violence Building on previous scholarship addressing trauma and the spectacle of terror the contributors also draw upon works of philosophy urban studies and postmodern geography to theorize how literary and visual representations expose the persistent conflicts that arise as cities rebuild in the shadow of past ruins Their essays advance new lines of argument that clarify art's role in contemporary debates about spatial practices gentrification cosmopolitanism memory and history nostalgia the uncanny and the abject postmodern virtuality the politics of realism and the economic and social life of cities The book offers fresh readings of familiar post 9 11 novels such as Jonathan Safran Foer's Extremely Loud Incredibly Close but it also considers works by Teju Cole Joseph O'Neill Silver Krieger Colum McCann Ronald Sukenick Jonathan Lethem Thomas Pynchon Colson Whitehead Paul Auster William Gibson Amitav Ghosh and Katherine Boo In addition The City Since 9 11 includes essays on the films Children of Men Hugo and the adaptation of Extremely Loud Incredibly Close chapters on the television series The Bridge The Killing and The Wire and an analysis of Michael Arad's Reflecting Absence and the 9 11 Memorial We are All

Africans Here Kristín Loftsdóttir, 2021-12-10 Europe is often described as flooded by migrants or by Muslim others with Western African men especially portrayed as a security risk At the same time the intensified mobility of privileged people in the Global North is celebrated as creating an increasingly cosmopolitan world This book looks critically at racialization of mobility in Europe anchoring the discussion in the aspiration of precarious migrants from Niger in Belgium and Italy The book contextualizes their experiences within the ongoing securitization of mobility in their home country and the persistent denial of racism and colonialism that seeks to portray the innocence of Europe

Beyond the Crisis in US American Studies David E. Nye, 2007 This volume celebrates the 40th anniversary of the journal American Studies in Scandinavia which began publication in 1967 The first of a series of books that will bring together the distinctive scholarship of the Nordic Association for American Studies it situates Scandinavian practices in relation to American Studies debates inside the US where for a decade scholars argued about the shape and subject matter of the field Is this a crisis in American Studies as a whole Or is the problem largely confined to the United States How is this interdisciplinary activity different in a Scandinavian context These questions ultimately are about the field's direction and international coherence Beyond the crisis in US American Studies is an invitation to develop a dialogue across the Atlantic For too long European scholars have watched Americanists in the United States as though looking through a one way window invisible to those arguing on the other side of the glass For too long US Americanists have scarcely realized that what appeared a mirror could be a window

BOOK JACKET 1984 and Beyond, 1984 Nordic Security in the 1990s Jan Øberg, 1992 The Nordic countries have traditionally been seen as peaceful welfare states with egalitarian relations within each and between them This ethos has also influenced the role their governments have played in international affairs However in recent years this role has become increasingly reactive based on an outmoded world view The Nordic countries both individually and as a bloc must now make a choice about future strategy within the European and global framework whether to remain on the periphery of European politics and continue in a reactive fashion or to engage in the broader framework of the post cold war era This study assesses the possibilities for the countries of the region and the contribution they can make to the changing Europe in terms of security and sustainable regional development
