Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart - Bridging Cultural Differences Andrea Fischer, 2004-07-13 Seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 7 A University of Tübingen New Philology language English abstract Usually when we encounter such a book we try to solve those problems with the help of literary strategies and approaches like literary theory reading about the author and the epoch studying of interpretations of the work deconstructing the text and looking at the effects of the text with regard to us readers Besides these literary strategies which lead to an interpretation of the text a linguistic analysis of literary texts helps us either to get a full understanding of the text or to comprehend why we have problems understanding the text However the linguistic analysis of literature is not an interpretation it is more an explanation of how it means and why it means what it does Linguistics demonstrates why a text is interpreted in this or that way and makes clearer what the underlying problems in the interpretation are The main aim of this essay is to show and explain the linguistic strategies and mechanisms that enable us to bridge the cultural differences to demonstrate how cultural knowledge is triggered off and to show how it is possible to learn something about the culture The goal of this essay is to show that readers can understand the text although they have no knowledge of the culture at all In the first part of this work I will settle the question why it is difficult for us to understand the culture behind the text and give a brief account of the problems with which we are confronted in the process of learning about the culture in the book In the second and third passage I will introduce and settle the theoretical basis of linguistic strategies that help us to understand the text and to reconcile the cultural contrasts The following part will show the practical application of the linguistic strategies with examples of Achebe's Things Fall Apart

An Analysis of Chinua Achebe's An Image of Africa Clare Clarke, 2017-07-05 Few works of scholarship have so comprehensively recast an existing debate as Chinua Achebe's essay on Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness Achebe a highly distinguished Nigerian novelist and university teacher looked with fresh eyes at a novel that was set in Africa but in which Africans appear only as onlookers or as indistinguishable savages Dismissing the prevailing portrayal of Joseph Conrad as a liberal hero whose anti imperialist views insulated him from significant criticism Achebe re cast the Polish author as a bloody racist in an analysis so cogent it changed the way in which his discipline looked not only at Conrad but also at all works with settings indicative of racial conflict The creative contribution of Achebe's essay lies in delving far beneath the surface of Conrad's novel he not only generated new and highly influential hypotheses about the author's modes of thought and motivations but also redefined the entire debate over Heart of Darkness Just because the novel had been accepted into the canon and now falls into the class of permanent literature Achebe says does not mean we should not question it closely or criticize its author

W.B. Yeats "The Second Coming". Analysis of an Apocalyptic Poem Anna Stumpe, 2015-09-08 Seminar paper from the year 2012 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature Martin Luther University Institut für Anglistik und Amerikanistik course William Butler Yeats language English abstract William Butler Yeats did not just believe in the apocalypse he was known for his prophetic insights and imaginative visions of the breakdown of civilization As the Mesoamerican Long Count Calendar ends on December 21 in 2012 many people suggest this date marks the end of the world or of human civilization It is of a certain interest that already in the early twentieth century Yeats was concerned with this kind of apocalyptic worldview The Second Coming therefore is one of the poems that also represents his understanding of the apocalypse which is not comparable to those who believe in the prophecy of the Mayan calendar For him the apocalypse is always connected with genuine spiritual revelation and with vision as it is the literal translation of the Greek word Howes Kelly 2006 52 With this iconic prophetic poem he is not only regarded a public hero but also deviates from established popular beliefs wherefore he is also named the first iconoclastic Modernist in English writing The stunning violent imagery and terrifying ritualistic language makes The Second Coming an archetypal poem about the return of history with violence Likewise as it was composed in 1919 and published in 1920 it represents Yeats immediate reaction to the political instable situation of Ireland England and Europe after Civil War Russian Revolution and WWI In consequence to that The Second Coming is one the most obscure works of Yeats hence quite difficult to understand in the first place For this reason firstly this paper concentrates on the historical and political background information which is fundamental to the poem s understanding Secondly it is this examination s method to analyze and interpret the poem s form structure and images At that not only The Second Coming in its structure but also this chapter divides into three parts from which each displays another phase in the development of the poet's state of mind. Consequently each line of The Second Coming is examined both to explain the poet's development and to prove the central issues of W. B. Yeats' poem. Eventually this paper provides a conclusion wherein its argumentation is summarized. This summary consequently also states the poem's effect on the reader.
