Dramatic Arts Nov 2014 Eng Memo:

Modern Playhouses Alistair Fair, 2018-03-16 Modern Playhouses is the first detailed study of the major programme of theatre building which took place in Britain between the 1950s and the 1980s Drawing on a vast range of archival material much of which had never previously been studied by historians it sets architecture in a wide social and cultural context presenting the history of post war theatre buildings as a history of ideas relating not only to performance but also to culture citizenship and the modern city During this period more than sixty major new theatres were constructed in locations from Plymouth to Inverness Aberystwyth to Ipswich The most prominent example was the National Theatre in London but the National was only the tip of the iceberg Supported in many cases by public subsidies these buildings represented a new kind of theatre conceived as a public service Theatre was ascribed a transformative role serving as a form of productive recreation at a time of increasing affluence and leisure New theatres also contributed to debates about civic pride urbanity and community Ultimately theatre could be understood as a vehicle for the creation of modern citizens in a consciously modernizing Britain Yet while recognizing as contemporaries did that the new theatres of the post war decades represented change Modern Playhouses also asks how radically different these buildings really were and what their mainstream architecture reveals of the history of modern British architecture and of post war Britain

Reimagining Industrial Sites

Catherine Heatherington, 2017-12-06 The discourse around derelict former industrial and military sites has grown in recent years This interest is not only theoretical and landscape professionals are taking new approaches to the design and development of these sites This book examines the varied ways in which the histories and qualities of these derelict sites are reimagined in the transformed landscape and considers how such approaches can reveal the dramatic changes that have been wrought on these places over a relatively short time scale It discusses these issues with reference to eleven sites from the UK Germany the USA Australia and China focusing specifically on how designers incorporate evidence of landscape change both cultural and natural There has been little research into how these developed landscapes are perceived by visitors and local residents This book examines how the tangible material traces of pastness are interpreted by the visitor and the impact of the intangible elements hidden traces experiences and memories The book draws together theory in the field and implications for practice in landscape architecture and concludes with an examination of how different approaches to revealing and reimagining change can affect the future management of the site

Pinter's World William Baker, 2018-09-15

Pinter's World Pinter and Company is not a full scale biography but a series of illuminating chapters about Pinter's life character and thought employing new information found in his Appointment Diaries recent biographical sources such as Simon Gray's memoirs and Henry Woolf's reminiscences in addition to personal discussions with several in Pinter's world This book provides a fresh illumination of Pinter's life and art his friendships obsessions and concerns Material is arranged around themes key concerns Pinter's activities Pinter's meetings and endeavors for instance with whom he met and when

when he wrote what and when and his perspective at the time are documented This work explores Pinter's writing drama poetry prose journalism and letters which are here regarded as part of his aesthetic achievement Pinter's World Pinter and Company presents a pointillist portrait of him through examining central concerns in his life These encompass an obsession with the theater and games delight in restaurants demonstrating that Pinter is far removed from the socially awkward isolated figures populating his early work and the women in Pinter's world Other areas examined include Pinter's political engagement from his adolescence to his last years and the literary and other creative influences upon him This work draws upon consultation of his papers at the British Library including letters to others especially close friends with whom he kept close contact for over half a century These letters should be regarded on par with his other creative accomplishments Pinter was a fascinating letter writer whose letters reveal thoughts at the time of writing often in abrupt most colorful idiomatic language His Appointment Diaries cannot reveal what actually occurred during his meetings but they do provide a guide to what he did on a daily basis and whom he met Memories from his friends his professional colleagues cricket players and his second wife Antonia Fraser illuminate Pinter's personality and actions Pinter's first literary love was poetry and unlike most other Pinter studies this one gives attention to his neglected poetic output that often reveals the real Pinter and the enigma that is at the heart of every great artist Barbara Bray, A Woman of Letters Pascale Sardin, 2024-11-27 Barbara Bray 1924-2010 was an English woman of letters who translated some hundred novels plays and essays from French to English and was Marguerite Duras's preferred translator She also collaborated with some of the most prestigious directors and playwrights of the 20th century Harold Pinter Samuel Beckett Joseph Losey and Franco Zeffirelli helping them write screenplays and radioplays This literary biography re-evaluates in a textual sociological and historical perspective the social role of an English writer and translator in the history of ideas and contemporary art Highlighting Bray's influence in cultural transfers of ideas and literatures between France Great Britain and the United States it renders visible the yet unrecognised work of a female mediator and creator It nourishes the debate about women's public voice and the representation of women in the media industries and contributes to enrich the other history that is being currently written by feminist scholars around the world
