Shorts Caryl Churchill, 1993 Playing for Time Geraldine Cousin, 2013-03-31 Playing for time explores connections between theatre time the historical moment and fictional time Geraldine Cousin persuasively argues that a crucial characteristic of contemporary British theatre is its preoccupation with instability and danger and traces images of catastrophe and loss in a wide range of recent plays and productions The diversity of the texts that are examined is a major strength of the book In addition to plays by contemporary dramatists Cousin analyses staged adaptations of novels and productions of plays by Euripides Strindberg and Priestley A key focus is Stephen Daldry's award winning revival of Priestley's An Inspector Calls which is discussed in relation both to other Priestley time plays and to Caryl Churchill's apocalyptic Far Away Lost children are a recurring motif Bryony Lavery's Frozen for example is explored in the context of the Soham murders which took place while the play was in production at the National Theatre whilst three virtually simultaneous productions of Euripides Hecuba are interpreted with regard to the Beslan massacre of schoolchildren This is a Chair Caryl Churchill, 1999 A stunning experimental short play by Caryl Churchill Plays Caryl Churchill, Ian Spink, David Lan, 1998 Annotation Includes Ice Cream Mad Forest The Shriker Lives of the Great Poisoners and A Mouthful of Birds as well as an introduction by the author Traps Caryl Churchill, 1978 Six people in a room is Albert being followed by the police or is he paranoid Did Jack bring his sister Christie to visit by willing her to come Is Syl married with a baby or is she on her own Does Del want to take Jack away with him Does Albert kill himself And how can smooth but violent Reg Christie's husband fit in with the others Science on Stage Kirsten Shepherd-Barr, 2006 Science on Stage is the first full length study of the phenomenon of science plays theatrical events that weave scientific content into the plot lines of the drama The book investigates the tradition of science on the stage from the Renaissance to the present focusing in particular on the current wave of science playwriting Drawing on extensive interviews with playwrights and directors Kirsten Shepherd Barr discusses such works as Michael Frayn's Copenhagen and Tom Stoppard's Arcadia She asks questions such as What accounts for the surge of interest in putting science on the stage What areas of science seem most popular with playwrights and why How has the tradition evolved throughout the centuries What currents are defining it now And what are some of the debates and controversies surrounding the use of science on stage Organized by scientific themes the book examines selected contemporary plays that represent a merging of theatrical form and scientific content plays in which the science is literally enacted through the structure and performance of the play Beginning with a discussion of Christopher Marlowe's Doctor

Faustus the book traces the history of how scientific ideas quantum mechanics and fractals for example are dealt with in theatrical presentations It discusses the relationship of science to society the role of science in our lives the complicated ethical considerations of science and the accuracy of the portrayal of science in the dramatic context The final chapter looks at some of the most recent and exciting developments in science playwriting that are taking the genre in innovative directions and challenging the audience s expectations of a science play The book includes a comprehensive annotated list of four centuries of science plays which will be useful for teachers students and general readers alike Far Away (Donmar Edition) Caryl Churchill,2020-02-06 Caryl Churchill s dazzling play about a world sliding into chaos in a new edition published alongside the play s revival at the Donmar Warehouse London in 2020 Light Shining in Buckinghamshire Caryl Churchill,1978 Deals with the rawness of life during the Civil War and the crazy mixture of ideals and half truths which led a group of free loving pantheistic communists to set their standard against the standard of the false revolution of Cromwell s parliamentarians
