Congress at Work

Lesson 1 How a Bill Becomes a Law

Review Questions

Directions: Read the lesson and complete the outline below. Refer to your text to fill in the blanks.

I. Types of Bills and Resolutions

- A. Bills dealing with individual people or places are called private bills, while bills involving general matters that apply to the entire nation are called public bills.
- B. Congress also passes resolutions to make policy on unusual or temporary matters.
- C. A joint resolution resolution is passed in the same form by both houses of Congress, a simple resolution resolution is passed by one house alone and affects matters only in that house, and senate resolutions cover matters requiring the action of the House and Senate but do not need a law.
- D. Lawmakers attach riders to bills that are likely to pass.

II. Introducing a Bill

- A. A bill is introduced in the House or Senate by a member of Congress. The bill is then assigned to a committee. The committee holds hearings and makes recommendations. The bill then moves to the floor for debate and voting.
- B. If the bill passes in one house, it moves to the other house. The process is repeated in the second house. If both houses pass the bill, it goes to the President for signature.
- C. If the bill is vetoed by the President, Congress can override the veto with a two-thirds majority in both houses. If the President vetoes the bill, Congress can also pass a concurrent resolution to express its disapproval.
