Diaries Of An Internet Lover:

Diaries of an Internet Lover Dawn Porter, 2006 Tired of looking for Mr Right when all she wanted was casual fun Dawn Porter placed an ad on the Craigslist website notorious for its no strings adult ads to see what handsome wealthy and charming men would respond to her request for surprising nights out and possibly more Nine months later and the results make for jaw dropping reading A cast of characters you couldn't invent do their best to impress Ms Porter with their wit wisdom and physical attributes With nicknames like the very clever wolf and the big bumbino these would be suitors antics read like a modern comedy of sexual manners Not content with looking for lust with cute guys Ms Porter explores her bi curious side and builds up to a liaison with a couple With a taste for fancy restaurants fine wines and men who make her laugh

Erotic Memoirs and Postfeminism J. Gwynne, 2013-01-18 This book analyses the impact of postfeminist discourse and the mainstreaming of pornography on our understanding of intimacy and female sexuality It is a broad critical survey of a recent publishing phenomenon the female authored erotic memoir and positions the texts under analysis as complex and contradictory expressions of popular feminism

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009

Read the Cultural Other Shi-xu, Manfred Kienpointner, Jan Servaes, 2008-08-22 Read the Cultural Other contains studies on non Western discourse It has two principal aims Firstly it argues that the study of non Western non White and Third World discourses should become a legitimate necessary and routine part of international discourse scholarship Hitherto non Western non White and Third World discourses have been relegated and marginalized to a local particular or other place in or one might argue outside the mainstream To reclaim their place the book deconstructs the rhetoric of universalism and the continued preoccupation with Western discourse in the profession and stresses the cultural nature of discourse both ordinary and disciplinary as it outlines a culturally pluralist vision Secondly in order to take the multicultural view seriously it explores the complexity diversity and forms of otherness of non Western discourse by examining the case of China and Hong Kong's discourses of the decolonization of the latter Far too often non Western discourse has been stereotyped as externally discrete internally homogeneous and formally containable within a universal general or integrated model The present work focuses on China and Hong Kong's discourses which have been marginalized by their Western counterparts Through culturally eclectic linguistic analysis and local cultural analysis it identifies and highlights the specific ways of speaking of China and Hong Kong their concepts concerns aspirations resistance verbal strategies etc with respect to similar or different issues The culturally pluralist view and analytical practice proffered here call for a radical cultural change in international scholarship on language communication and discourse
