Total Cold War Kenneth Alan Osgood,2006 Osgood focuses on major campaigns such as Atoms for Peace People to People and cultural exchange programs Drawing on recently declassified documents that record U S psychological operations in some three dozen countries he tells how U S propaganda agencies presented everyday life in America to the world its citizens living full happy lives in a classless society where economic bounty was shared by all Osgood further investigates the ways in which superpower disarmament negotiations were used as propaganda maneuvers in the battle for international public opinion He also reexamines the early years of the space race focusing especially on the challenge to American propagandists posed by the Soviet launch of Sputnik

The Birth and Unfolding of Phases in History Michael A. Susko,2025-09-10 The Birth and Unfolding of Phases in History From Neolithic to World Pueblo and U S History brings together four major works into a single arc of human time Michael A Susko argues that the rhythm of history is not confined to the rise of empires but begins in the Neolithic with triadic 45 year generations that set the first phases of historical time in motion Using this framework the book explores Neolithic atal h y k as a non empire model of symbolic and generational phasing This Initial work is in progress World history through Egypt Judah Israel Rome and the Medieval Modern era contrasting empire based and prophetic alternatives Ancestral Pueblo history as a more egalitarian path outside empire s mold U S history as a largely empire driven model tempered by ideals of freedom and equality This panoramic view balances empire and non empire trajectories showing how civilizations universalize their visions either through force or through sharing covenant and inclusion Written in accessible language yet grounded in rigorous patterning it invites readers to see history not as inevitable empire but as a set of choices that continue to shape our present and future

Astronomical Pulses to History's Phases Michael A. Susko, 2025-09-26 Bringing together seven volumes of research Michael A Susko presents a grand synthesis of astronomical biological and cultural evolution Using a logarithmic model he shows how the universe has unfolded in accelerating pulses from galaxies and planets to the rise of life and symbolic humanity This rhythm of time is then extended through the Neolithic tells and into recorded history where generational phases reveal cultures growing and transforming in their own natural cycles Three distinct measures of time logarithmic pulses triadic generational units and fifteen year historical generations converge to reveal a patterned fabric of change Across billions of years and into the present moment the author demonstrates how time is not a smooth line but a structured unfolding marked by phases of complexity consciousness and cultural renewal The result is both a sweeping map of our past and a reflection on the nature of time itself its rhythms its surprises and its promise of transformations yet to come 5 Steps to a 5 AP U.S. History

Chávez, Cindy L. Griffin, 2012-11-01 Building on the decades of work by women of color and allied feminists Standing in the Intersection is the first book in more than a decade to bring communication studies and feminist intersectional theories in conversation with one another The authors in this collection take up important conversations relating to notions of style space and audience and engage with the rhetoric of significant figures including Carol Moseley Braun Barbara Jordan Emma Goldman and Audre Lorde as well as crucial contemporary issues such as campus activism and political asylum In doing so they ask us to complicate notions of space location and movement to be aware of and explicit with regard to our theorizing of intersecting and contradictory identities and to think about the impact of multiple dimensions of power in understanding audiences and audiencing

Robert Lowell's Imitations and the Cold War Simon van Schalkwyk, 2025-08-07 The first book length study focusing on Robert Lowell's career long preoccupation with the liberal mode of translational adaptation known as imitation Robert Lowell's Imitations and the Cold War argues that Lowell's imitations are simultaneously symptomatic of and critically responsive to familiar nodes of Cold War ideology such as containment and contamination secrecy and security post imperial U S expansion and Empire It departs from studies focused solely on Imitations 1961 Lowell's book length collection of translational adaptations by demonstrating how imitation shadows Lowell's work from his earliest collections Land of Unlikeness 1944 and Lord Weary's Castle 1946 through his celebrated mid career collections Life Studies 1959 and For the Union Dead 1964 and to later works such as Near the Ocean 1969 and his contributions of adaptations from the Russian of Anna Akhmatova and Osip Mandelstam collected in Olga Carlisle's anthology Poets on Street Corners 1967 Simon van Schalkwyk excavates the imitational substrate undergirding and informing Lowell's compositional method and poetic imagination throughout the course of his career In so doing he shows how imitation enacts at the level of form Lowell's restless investment in Cold War geopolitics and literary networks in ways that inform develop and complicate his more conventional canonization as an unquestionably American poet preoccupied solely and simplistically with personal or autobiographical modes of poetic confession As literary sites at which containment's dualities porosities leakages and contaminants are most clearly displayed Lowell's imitations simultaneously challenge and develop our understanding of confession's presumably strict preoccupation with the personal regional and national frameworks through which Lowell has commonly been understood
