

MULTIPLE CHOICE

1. Four patients in labor all request epidural analgesia to manage their pain at the same time. Which ethical principle is most compromised when only one nurse anesthetist is on call?
- Justice
 - Fidelity
 - Beneficence
 - Nonmaleficence

ANS: A
Justice refers to fairness and is used frequently in discussion regarding access to health care resources. Here the just distribution of resources, in this case pain management, cannot be justly apportioned. Nonmaleficence refers to avoidance of harm; beneficence refers to taking positive actions to help others. Fidelity refers to the agreement to keep promises. Each of these principles is partially expressed in the question; however, justice is most compromised because not all laboring patients have equal access to pain management owing to lack of personnel resources.

DIF: Apply (application) ORF: Discuss the role of ethics in professional nursing.
TOP: Caring MSC: Health Promotion and Maintenance

2. The patient reports to the nurse of being afraid to speak up regarding a desire to end care for fear of upsetting spouse and children. Which principle in the nursing code of ethics ensures that the nurse will promote the patient's cause?
- Advocacy
 - Responsibility
 - Confidentiality
 - Accountability

ANS: A
Nurses advocate for patients when they support the patient's cause. A nurse's ability to adequately advocate for a patient is based on the unique relationship that develops and the opportunity to better understand the patient's point of view. Responsibility refers to respecting one's professional obligations and following through on promises. Confidentiality deals with privacy issues, and accountability refers to answering for one's actions.

DIF: Apply (application) ORF: Discuss the role of ethics in professional nursing.
TOP: Caring MSC: Management of Care

3. The patient's son requests to view documentation in the medical record. What is the nurse's best response to this request?
- "I'll be happy to get that for you."
 - "You are not allowed to look at it."
 - "You will need your mother's permission."
 - "I cannot let you see the chart without a doctor's order."

ANS: C
The mother's permission is needed. The nurse understands that sharing health information is governed by HIPAA legislation, which defines rights and privileges of patients for protection of privacy. Private health information cannot be shared without the patient's specific permission. The nurse cannot obtain the records without permission. The son can look at it after approval from the patient. While talking to the physician or getting an order is appropriate, the patient still has to give consent.

DIF: Analyze (analysis) ORF: Discuss the role of ethics in professional nursing.
TOP: Communication and Documentation MSC: Management of Care

4. When professionals work together to solve ethical dilemmas, nurses must examine their own values. What is the best rationale for this step?
- So fact is separated from opinion.
 - So different perspectives are respected.
 - So judgmental attitudes can be provoked.
 - So the group identifies the one correct solution.

ANS: B
Values are personal beliefs that influence behavior. To negotiate differences of value, it is important to be clear about your own values; what you value, why, and how you respect your own values even as you try to respect those of others whose values differ from yours. Ethical dilemmas are a problem in that no one right solution exists. It is not to separate fact from opinion. Judgmental attitudes are not to be used, much less provoked.

DIF: Analyze (analysis) ORF: Discuss the role of values in the study of ethics.
TOP: Planning MSC: Psychosocial Integrity
