Fremont-Smith,2008-12-15 The nonprofit sector is a vital component of our society and is allowed the greatest freedom to operate The public understandably assumes that since nonprofit organizations are established to do good the people who run nonprofits are altruistic and the laws governing nonprofits have reflected this assumption But as Marion Fremont Smith argues the rules that govern how nonprofits operate are inadequate and the regulatory mechanisms designed to enforce the rules need improvement Despite repeated instances of negligent management self interest at the expense of the charity and outright fraud nonprofits continue to receive minimal government regulation In this time of increased demand for corporate accountability the need to strengthen regulation of nonprofits is obvious Fremont Smith addresses this need from a historical legal and organizational perspective She combines summaries and analysis of the substantive legal rules governing the behavior of charitable officers directors and trustees with descriptions of the federal and state regulatory schemes designed to enforce these rules Her unique and exhaustive historical survey of the law of nonprofit organizations provides a foundation for her analysis of the effectiveness of current law and proposals for its improvement Uniform Issue List ,1986 Public Utilities Reports ,1915 Accountability: A Challenge for Charities and Fundraisers Putnam Barber,2002-03-26 This issue provides background on the development and the current state of various approaches to accountability Authors outline the legal powers of donors to charities and and consider choices in structuring gifts to increase leverage as well as examine the scope of federal laws affecting nonprofits They also review tools to improve performance analysis and discuss the National Center for Charitable Statistics role in accountability and examine how to create more effective government oversight of charitable activities This is the 31st issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Philanthropic Fundraising Proceedings of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws,1963 Colorado
