Diagrams Of Architecture Mark Garcia:

The Diagrams of Architecture Mark Garcia, 2010-03 Since the 1980s the diagram has become a preferred method for researching communicating theorising and making architectural designs ideas and projects Thus the rise of the diagram as opposed to the model or the drawing is the one of the most significant new developments in the process of design in the late 20th and early 21st centuries Diagrams of Architecture is the first anthology to represent through texts and diagrams the histories theories and futures of architecture through the diagram Spanning the Pre historic to the Parametric Diagrams of Architecture illustrates over 250 diagrams and brings together 26 previously published and newly commissioned essays from leading international academics architects theorists and professional experts These combine to define the past and future of the diagram s discourse Prefaced with a critical introduction by Mark Garcia each text investigates a central concept or dimension of the diagram ranging from socio cultural studies science philosophy technology CAD CAM computing and cyberspace and virtual digital design to methodology environment sustainability and phenomenological poetic and art architecture as well as interior urban engineering interactive and landscape design The first critical multidisciplinary book on the history theory and futures of the architectural diagram Includes seminal articles on the diagram from the history and theory of architecture such as those by Peter Eisenman Sanford Kwinter MVRDV Neil Spiller Lars Spuybroek UN Studio and Anthony Vidler Features 14 newly commissioned articles by leading architects and theorists including Charles Jencks Hanif Kara Patrik Schumacher Neil Spiller Leon van Schaik and Alejandro Zaera Polo and two new interviews with Will Alsop and Bernard Tschumi Includes a full colour critical collection of over 250 of the most significant and original diagrams many of which are previously unpublished in the history of architecture from around the world

Approaches to Drawing in Architectural and Urban Design Fabio Colonnese, Nuno Grancho, Robin Schaeffer, 2024-04-04 Architects draw for a variety of purposes they draw to assimilate places and precedents to generate ideas to develop a concept into a consistent project in a team to communicate ideas and solutions to patrons and clients and to guide building contractors during the construction stages as well as to produce further elaborations in order to publish their project in a treatise a journal or their own portfolio Most importantly architects draw to think and to manage complexity in a visual way By taking into account innovative and interdisciplinary uses of architectural drawing in the design process both historical and current the collection of chapters and interviews in this book frames a new critical perspective and a uniquely contextual appreciation of drawing as a way to encourage spatial thinking and practice in architecture and urbanism The authors take the discussion to a new level of philosophical sophistication while also considering drawing in relation to a series of specific engagements with urban development planning and architecture

Interpreting Site Genevieve Baudoin, 2015-04-17 Interpreting Site explains the basic methods architects use to translate what you perceive to represent the complex conditions that physically and mentally construe a site helping to shape the ultimate design Within each of the four themes defining site experiencing site

spatializing site and systematizing site theoretical conceptual and analytic methods and representational tools are introduced to give you a foundation to develop your own approach to the conditions of a site Author Genevieve S Baudoin examines longstanding representation methods in relation to emerging and experimental methods offering an idiosyncratic and provocative look at different approaches Four highly illustrated full colour case studies of key contemporary projects in Spain the United States the United Kingdom and Norway demonstrate how architects have used conditions discovered on a site in their final design

Cybernetic Architectures Camilo Andrés Cifuentes Quin, 2021-07-29 For the past 50 years the advancements of technology have equipped architects with unique tools that have enabled the development of new computer mediated design methods fabrication techniques and architectural expressions Simultaneously in contemporary architecture new frameworks emerged that have radically redefined the traditional conceptions of design of the built environment and of the role of architects Cybernetic Architectures argues that such frameworks have been constructed in direct reference to cybernetic thinking a thought model that emerged concurrently with the origins of informatics and that embodies the main assumptions values and ideals underlying the development of computer science The book explains how the evolution of the computational perspective in architecture has been parallel to the construction of design issues in reference to the central ideas fostered by the cybernetic model It unpacks and explains this crucial relationship in the work of digital architects between the use of information technology in design and the conception of architectural problems around an informational ontology This book will appeal to architecture students and scholars interested in understanding the recent transformations in the architectural landscape related to the advent of computer based design paradigms

The House of Light and Entropy Alessandra Ponte, 2014 Formerly announced as Maps and Territories this collection of essays written by landscape historian Alessandra Ponte begins with an investigation of the American obsession with lawns and then continues to collectively map the aesthetic scientific and technological production of past and present North American landscapes These include the American desert as a privileged site of scientific and artistic testing the faraway projects of electrification of the Canadian North the transformation of the notion and perception of waste and wasteland during the twentieth century the photographic medium and its encounters with Native Americans as well as an introductory essay The Map and the Territory written specifically for this volume

The Patterns of Architecture Mark Garcia, 2009-12-21 This issue explores the creation materialisation and theorisation of some of the world's most significant and spectacularly patterned spaces It investigates how interiors buildings cities and landscapes are patterned through design production and manufacturing use time accident and perception It also brings into focus how contemporary advanced spatial practices and CAD CAM are now pushing patterns to encompass a greater range of structural programmatic aesthetic and material effects and properties
