

Into the Wild Dialectical Journal

You will complete this dialectical journal in your notebook in two parts: one for Ch. 1-9, which will consist of at least three entries, and one for Ch. 10-end, which will also consist of at least three entries. See example entry for Ch. 1-9 below and follow this template for your entries. Your entries should be chronological, thus showing your understanding of the progression of the book.

- Entry # ____

- Impression of value (literary or language terms, intended audience, purpose, textual conventions, author's message, ideology, structure, etc.):

The structure of the book deviates in Chapters 5 and 9 from Chris's story to that of other adventurers/explorers who acted similarly. Krakauer seems to do this in order to debunk the myth believed by some that Chris is crazy – or if he is, he is not the only one, and his story does not stand alone in the context of history. He also seems to share these stories in order to confirm the criticism of native Alaskans who recognize that others have acted similarly to Chris in the past, and that they are all deluded. Either way, the reader learns that Chris's story, while likely different from anything they have ever experienced, is not singularly unique.

- Quotations to support:

- 1) "The prevailing Alaska wisdom held that McCandless was simply one more half-cocked greenhorn who went into the country expecting to find answers to all his problems..." (Krakauer 72).
- 2) "Some insight into the tragedy of Chris McCandless can be gained by studying predecessors cut from the same exotic cloth" (Krakauer 85).

- Further commentary (provide additional context and/or language analysis of the quotes, offer more holistic analysis of how this section is important to the book, make connections to other parts of the book it relates to, etc.):

In order to foster a sense of authenticity in the accounts that comprise Krakauer's impressions of McCandless, Krakauer tends to integrate dialect into his commentary, such as the informal back country phrasing of "half-cocked greenhorn". Most people in our area have probably not heard this phrase before, but it is easy to translate it to a broader, more well-known colloquialism, such as "nutjob". Krakauer also tends to directly state his intentions at certain points, as he does in the second quote above, a helpful device in a book with a mosaic structure that strays from the main storyline several times. This section of the book provides more background on people similar to Chris, allowing the reader to explore the psychological and sociological implications of his decisions, while also connecting to the author's note and other parts of the book where the thoughts of native Alaskans are voiced.

Literature: New-Pes John McClintock,1883 The Making of Public Space Luc Boltanski,Arnaud Esquerre,2024-11-18

This new book by Luc Boltanski and Arnaud Esquerre is a highly original analysis of the two key processes that shape the contemporary public sphere On the one hand there are the processes of news provision which select out a range of facts and events and bring them to the attention of a large number of people who have not for the most part experienced them directly On the other hand there are processes of politicization which problematize the facts made known by news provision and treat them as issues that concern citizens and the state Politicization is typically characterized by a diversity of interpretations which in turn gives rise to a proliferation of commentary discussion polemic and division In order to study these processes and their interaction Boltanski and Esquerre draw on a vast repository of user comments left on the site of a major daily newspaper as well as the thousands of comments posted on an online video site They uncover what is sayable by comparing published comments with those deleted by moderators They capture opinions in the course of their formation rather than describing views which have long become cemented these are often reflexive and wise deriving from responses to interviews or opinion polls They map out the parameters of politicization today touching on various hot topics such as feminism the environment immigration religion nationalism and Europe This is not just a book about the news and the press but a major new work which shows how political opinion comes into being and the way in which it affects our daily lives It will be of great value to students and scholars in media studies sociology and politics as well as to anyone interested in the state of politics and the media in our contemporary digital age South African Journal of Science ,1915 The Golden Bough: Spirits
