Science Ripples in the Ether The Call of the Dance Amoeboid Those who know me know that I was once almost a scientist Even from an early age it was what I wanted to do Actually I wanted to be a spaceman the fastest man alive but when I started into the studying in the 70s I found myself drawn towards biology and chemistry more than to maths and physics I ve retained a life long love of all things pertaining to outer space but when it came to time to choose a path beyond school I went with the Biological Sciences and graduated in Botany from Glasgow University and even made a stab at some real science for a couple of years before I was caught in the IT trap in the early 80s And there it ended Thirteen years ago I escaped the world of corporate IT came to Newfoundland and science crept in again this time in my writing Scientists began to show up in the likes of THE CREEPING KELP NIGHT OF THE WENDIGO THE DUNFIELD TERROR FUNGOID and my Professor Challenger pastiches and since then they ve been getting even louder still I ve put together a set of chapbooks featuring weird science tales by me In these you ll find mad scientists bad scientists and mad bad scientists Weird
