Hunt,2015-08-11 It's the money you don't spend that ultimately gives you the freedom to live the life you love. You work hard for your money. You know you should save some, but it seems like every month something comes up that sets back your best laid plans. If you're tired of working hard just to get by, this user-friendly guide shows you that you can slash the cost of nearly everything you need without sacrificing joy and quality of life. Mary Hunt shows you how to get off the monthly money roller coaster. She offers the specific techniques, resources, and motivation you need to keep more of your money every month, including finding money you didn't know you had, cutting your grocery bill by 50%, controlling the mother of all budget busters, avoiding fees, paying off your mortgage, saving on bills, preparing for disaster, paying less for your dream car, planning family vacations, and more. It's time to start saving, giving, and finally making financial progress, and with humor and compassion, Mary Hunt is leading the way. CU Consumer Reports ,1946 The Power of Experiments Michael Luca, Max H. Bazerman,2021-03-02 How tech companies like Google, Airbnb, StubHub, and Facebook learn from experiments in our data-driven world: an excellent primer on experimental and behavioral economics. Have you logged into Facebook recently? Searched for something on Google? Chosen a movie on Netflix? If so, you've probably been an unwitting participant in a variety of experiments, also known as randomized controlled trials, designed to test the impact of different online experiences. Once an esoteric tool for academic research, the randomized controlled trial has gone mainstream. No tech company worth its salt or its share price would dare make major changes to its platform without first running experiments to understand how they would influence user behavior. In this book, Michael Luca and Max Bazerman explain the importance of experiments for decision making in a data-driven world. Luca and Bazerman describe the central role experiments play in the tech sector, drawing lessons and best practices from the experiences of such companies as StubHub, Alibaba, and Uber. Successful experiments can save companies money: eBay, for example, discovered how to cut 50 million from its yearly advertising budget or bring to light something previously ignored, as when Airbnb was forced to confront rampant discrimination by its hosts. Moving beyond tech, Luca and Bazerman consider experimenting for the social good: different ways that governments are using experiments to influence or nudge behavior, ranging from voter apathy to school absenteeism. Experiments, they argue, are part of any leader's toolkit. With this book, readers can become part of the experimental revolution. Consumers Union Reports ,1939 The Vacuum Cleaner Carroll Gantz,2012-10-05 House cleaning has been an innate human activity forever, but only since the early 19th century have mechanical devices replaced the physical labor performed mostly by women. Mechanical carpet sweepers were replaced by manual suction cleaners, which in turn were replaced by electric vacuum cleaners in the early 20th century. Innovative inventors who improved vacuum cleaners as electricity became commonly available made these advances possible Many early manufacturers failed but some such as Bissell Hoover Eureka and others became household names as they competed for global dominance with improved features performance and appearance This book describes the fascinating people who made this possible as well as the economic cultural and technological contexts of their times From obscure beginnings 200 years ago vacuum cleaners have become an integral part of modern household culture CONSUMER REPORTS BUYING G-2005 Consumer Reports Books,2004 Consumer Reports 2002
