Conflict, Security and the Right to Development in Africa Benjamin Mekinde Tonga, 2021-02-17
 Academic Paper from the year 2018 in the subject Politics Topic Public International Law and Human Rights grade 3 3 4 course Law language English abstract Conflict security and development in Africa has generated such a constant international debate in the recent decades The prevailing discourse on these matters has rather been pessimistic The prevalence of armed conflicts within certain phases of the African colonial state the regression of socio economic indicators poor democratic processes as a result of the bad leadership from political elites and widespread corruption We must underscore that conflicts are inevitable in society however if poorly handled it retard the enforcement of the right to development This grounded in the human rights based approach which seeks to ensure that the state who is duty bearer put in mechanisms to ensure that the generic needs of society are identified secured and protected On the whole this paper presents an examination of conflict security causes of conflict security and their effects on the right to development the nexus between conflict security and development within the paradigm of the human security generic and the human rights based approach

Conflict, Security and Development ,2006 Conflict, Peace, Security and Development Helen Hintjens, Dubravka Zarkov, 2014-08-13 Whilst classical approaches linked development with peace security has become central to understandings of both war and peacetime This book uniquely reflects on how to deal with the convergence of war and peace in the context of global economic and geo political development It addresses methodological challenges in contemporary approaches to conflict violence security peace and development Two dominant contemporary approaches are selected for debate on methodologies and ethical choices rational choice and identity based theorizing The chapters are arranged as dialogues around contending approaches to better understand how the inter locking fields of violent conflict peace development and security can be researched and understood The book considers how theoretical and methodological approaches relate to different ethical and political choices including around engagement and intervention in the four interwoven fields Theoretical methodological and ethical issues emerge from the critical reviews of academic discourses and case study based chapters from across the world including Sri Lanka Ghana Colombia and Rwanda This book is an invaluable resource for postgraduate students and researchers in Development Studies Conflict Studies Peace Studies and Security Studies

Post-conflict Security, Peace and Development Christine Atieno, Colin Robinson, 2018-11-02 This book examines links between post conflict security peace and development in Africa Latin America Europe and New Zealand Young peace researchers from the Global South Uganda Ivory Coast Kenya Brazil Colombia as well as from Italy and New Zealand address in case studies traumas in Northern Uganda demobilisation and reintegration of ex combatants in the Ivory Coast economic and financial management of terrorism in Kenya organised crime in Brazil mental health issues in Colombia macro realism in Europe and global defence reforms within the military apparatus since 1990 The book reviews linkages between regional stability development and peace in post conflict societies while adding on to the post 2015 international agenda and discusses linkages between peace security and development Conflict, Security, and Development World Bank,2011 understanding the deeply entrenched causes of instability and identifying the most sustainable paths to peace This meticulously researched account is essential reading for all students researchers and policymakers working on post conflict societies

The Reality of Aid The Reality of Aid,2008-01-15 This report reveals that recent trends in global aid since 2001 demonstrate the foreign policy priorities of donors in the global war on terror The wars in Afghanistan and Iraq have captured more than a third of the new aid resources allocated by donors since 2001 While recent aid resources have been diverted new aid pledges made in 2005 still fall far short of the urgently needed financing to meet even the minimal Millennium Development Goals In 2007 the international community has an opportunity to replace rhetoric and policy slights of hand with policies and resources that could truly make a difference for a decade devoted to ending global poverty and creating conditions for peace

Conversion Survey 2005 Bonn International Center for Conversion,2005 Despite progress in a number of areas the UN Millennium Development Goals MDGs are unlikely to be met unless major policy changes occur This year s conversion survey advocates new approaches towards states in conflict and governments which fail to provide their citizens with basic security welfare arguing at the same time that high military spending detracts from the agreed goal of increasing overseas development aid Such incontestable links between security and development hover in the background of the survey While much lip service is paid to the interdependence of the two this seldom translates into integrated policies Although the MDGs provide a powerful vision what is still lacking is an added perspective aimed at improving people s security by enhancing conflict prevention post conflict peacebuilding and conversion BICC analyzes global trends and developments over the last year by examining three issue areas arms and resources the conversion related aspects of peacebuilding and the link between natural resources and conflict Three topical chapters subsequently explore certain aspects of conversion in more detail how privatization is increasingly permeating the military sphere options for implementing disarmament demobilization and reintegration especially DDR without camps and two prominent cases of security sector reform SSR Afghanistan and Iraq

Journal of Peacebuilding & Development ,2002 Journal of Peace, Security, and Development ,2004 Can Security Sector Reform Contribute to the Reduction of Gender-Based Violence? Susanne Nill,2011-05 Master s Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Politics International Politics Topic Development Politics grade 1 7 University of Duisburg Essen course Politikwissenschaften Internationale Beziehungen und Entwicklungspolitik language English abstract The ambition of this thesis is to investigate the significance of gender issues for reforming the security sector Further on it will be analyzed which gender strategies are crucial for police reform and to which extent gender sensitive police reform GSPR can contribute to a reduction of violence against women The case study shall examine to which extent gender issues were integrated in GSPR in Sierra Leone Based on these findings this analysis will develop recommendations how gender can be integrated successfully into security sector reform The theoretical part of this paper illustrates the concept of security sector reform and its meaning for peace building and development In addition relevant dimensions and actors are introduced combined with the exemplification of influencing factors and potential obstacles Afterwards the concept of gender is discussed including its relevance for development cooperation as well as a description of gender based violence and its consequences The theoretical part concludes by merging these two concepts and illustrates the relevance and strategies of gender sensitive police reform The second part of this analysis focuses on gender and police reform in Sierra Leone This chapter begins with a brief description of the civil war in Sierra Leone as well as the prevalence of gender based violence Afterwards the chapter analyses to which extent gender sensitive strategies were integrated in police reform The paper concludes with recommendations for further gender sensitive strategies in the security sector and argues if effective police reform can reduce the emergence of gender based violence

Readings on Governance and Development ,2005 With reference to Nepal contributed articles Defence, Security and Development Saadet Deger,Robert West,1987 Artikel med matematiske udtryk Security and Development Neclâ Yongaçoğlu Tschirgi,Michael S. Lund,Francesco Mancini,2010 Although policymakers and practitioners alike have enthusiastically embraced the idea that security and development are interdependent the precise nature and implications of the dynamic interplay between the two phenomena have been far from clear The authors of Security and Development Searching for Critical Connections realistically assess the promise and shortcomings of integrated security development policies as a strategy for conflict prevention Addressing cross cutting issues and also presenting detailed country case studies they move beyond rhetoric and generalization to make an important contribution to the international conflict prevention agenda
