Trauma-Informed Juvenile Justice in the United States Judah Oudshoorn, 2016-08-23 Most youth who come in conflict with the law have experienced some form of trauma yet many justice professionals are ill equipped to deal with the effects trauma has on youth and instead reinforce a system that further traumatizes young offenders while ignoring the needs of victims By taking a trauma informed perspective this text provides a much needed alternative one that allows for interventions based on principles of healing and restorative justice rather than on punishment and risk assessment In addition to providing a comprehensive historical overview of youth justice in Canada Judah Oudshoorn addresses the context of youth offending by examining both individual trauma including its emotional cognitive and behavioural effects and collective trauma The author tackles some of the most difficult problems facing youth justice today especially the ongoing cycles of intergenerational trauma caused by the colonization of Indigenous peoples and patriarchal violence and demonstrates how a trauma informed approach to youth justice can work toward preventing crime and healing offenders victims and communities Featuring a foreword written by Howard Zehr case stories from the author s own work with victims and offenders questions for reflection and annotated lists of recommended readings this engaging text is the perfect resource for college and university students in the field of youth justice
