Queer and Deleuzian Temporalities Rachel Loewen Walker, 2021-11-18 Rachel Loewen Walker's original study of Deleuze's theory of temporality advances a concept of the living present as a critical juncture through which novel meanings and activism take flight in relation to new feminist materialisms queer theory Indigenous studies and studies of climate Drawing on literature philosophy popular culture and community research Loewen Walker unsettles the fierce linearity of our stories particularly as they uphold fixed systems of gender sexuality and identity Treading new ground for Deleuzian studies this book focuses on the non linearity of the living present to show that everything is within rather than outside of time Through this critical re evaluation which takes in climate change queer and trans politics and Indigenous sovereignty Queer and Deleuzian Temporalities thickens the present moment By opening up multiple pasts and multiple futures we are invited to act with a deepened level of accountability to all possible timelines

Stanley Cavell and Philosophy as Translation Paul Standish, Naoko Saito, 2017-02-28 Translation exposes aspects of language that can easily be ignored renewing the sense of the proximity and inseparability of language and thought The ancient quarrel between philosophy and literature was an early expression of a self understanding of philosophy that has in some quarters at least survived the centuries This book explores the idea of translation as a philosophical theme and as an important feature of philosophy and practical life especially in relation to the work of Stanley Cavell The essays in this volume explore philosophical questions about translation especially in the light of the work of Stanley Cavell They take the questions raised by translation to be of key importance not only for philosophical thinking but for our lives as a whole Thoreau's enigmatic remark The truth is translated reveals that apparently technical matters of translation extend through human lives to remarkable effect conditioning the ways in which the world comes to light The experience of the translator exemplifies the challenge of judgement where governing rules and principles are incommensurable and it shows something of the ways in which words come to us opening new possibilities of thought This book puts Cavell's rich exploration of these matters into conversation with traditions of pragmatism and European thought Translation then far from a merely technical matter is at work in human being and it is the means of humanisation The book brings together philosophers and translators with common interests in Cavell and in the questions of language at the heart of his work

Cluttered Universes of Samuel Beckett and Tadeusz Kantor Michał Kisiel, 2025-08-08 Cluttered Universes of Samuel Beckett and Tadeusz Kantor is a collection of four essays bringing Kantor's and Beckett's texts, theatres and theories into conversation with deconstruction, new materialism, environmental humanities and posthumanism. This book is dedicated to two artists rarely discussed together to see how their awareness of poetics and performativity of matter might help us understand our connection to the material world even if the world is falling apart. Jane Bennett, Karen Barad, Rosi Braidotti, Donna Haraway, Timothy Morton and others pave the way for new critical interpretations of canonical works which are recognised as universes cluttered with matter, objects, things and other nonhuman visitors of seemingly exclusive human domains. Kisiel shows that Beckett's and Kantor's carefulness and care for imagining nonhuman human relationships might refresh our understanding of memory, togetherness, death or even the end of the world for the Anthropocene.

The Neuro-Image Patricia Pisters, 2012-07-11 Arguing that today's viewers move through a character's brain instead of looking through his or her eyes or mental landscape, this book approaches twenty-first century globalized cinema through the concept of the neuro image. Pisters explains why this concept has emerged now and she elaborates its threefold nature through research from three domains: Deleuzian schizoanalytic philosophy, digital networked screen culture and neuroscientific research. These domains return in the book's tripartite structure. Part One on the brain as neuroscreen suggests rich connections between film theory, mental illness and cognitive neuroscience. Part Two explores neuro images from a philosophical perspective, paying close attention to their ontological, epistemological and aesthetic dimensions. Political and ethical aspects of the neuro image are discussed in Part Three. Topics covered along the way include the omnipresence of surveillance, the blurring of the false and the real and the affective powers of the neo baroque and the use of neuro images in politics, historical memory and war.
