Students of the Dream Ruth Carbonette Yow, 2017-11-27 Marietta High once a flagship public school northwest of Atlanta has become a symbol of the resegregation that is sweeping across the American South Ruth Carbonette Yow argues for a revitalized commitment to integration but one that challenges many orthodoxies of the civil rights struggle including colorblindness

Learning to Teach in an Era of Privatization Christopher A. Lubienski, T. Jameson Brewer, 2019-07-19 Education policymakers often demonstrate surprisingly little awareness of how popular reforms impact teaching and teacher education In this book well regarded scholars help readers develop a more robust understanding of the nature of teacher preparation as well as an in depth grasp of how popular policies practices and ideologies have taken root domestically and internationally Contributors include Deron Boyles Anthony Cody Kerry Kretchmar Carmen Montecinos Beth Sondel and Christopher Tienken This book will help readers consider the possibilities of democratic visions in the teaching profession and in public education particularly in this time of intense political polarization when critical citizen engagement with our public institutions and policies is deeply needed Janelle Scott University of California Berkeley The chapters in this book make clear that ongoing policy disconnects cannot be ignored and that now is the time to elevate the teaching profession for students who have faced historical inequities Julian Vasquez Heilig dean University of Kentucky College of Education Public teaching and teacher education in the U S and in many other parts of the world are under assault by concerted efforts to deregulate and marketize them This collection of essays examines the consequences of these privatization efforts in the U S Chile and Singapore and should be required reading for those wanting to understand their complexity and consequences for teaching and teacher education today Ken Zeichner Boeing Professor of Teacher Education University of Washington

Managed By Morons James Lawther, 2023-09-04 The antidote to mediocre management read it and become a better boss Management would be easy if it weren't for the corporate claptrap that gets in the way the painful organisational rituals that do nothing for a business's success SMART goals are not smart the annual round of target setting is a management power game and employee performance management is for fools If it is such a great idea why don't you do it at home Try telling your partner they are below standard and highlight their development opportunities Imagine how that would play out You don't need an Executive MBA to be a captain of industry Nor do you need to climb on the bandwagon of the next big thing Management by Objectives Best Practice Benchmarking and the Tao of Transformational Leadership have all been and gone though you might need some Artificial Intelligence to sift through all that Big Data There are easier ways to create flourishing workplaces James Lawther spent a third of a century in corporate Britain He has been taken for a ride by leadership gurus seduced by technology fleeced by management consultants and had his fair share of truly dreadful managers But he learned how to build a thriving organisation along the way There is no secret sauce and like all good things it is simple when you know how Buy this book and rediscover the obvious Your customers employees and bosses will love you for it

Georgia Statistical Abstract, 2014

Correlating English Language Learner CRCT Scores on the Basis of English Language Learner ACCESS Scores Nancy McNeal, 2016 The purpose of this quantitative correlational study was to test the sociocultural theory that relates English language learner students' scores on the Georgia Assessing Comprehension and Communication in English State-to-State ACCESS test to English language learner students' scores on the Georgia Criterion-Referenced Competency Test CRCT The assessments scored students in language use and proficiency in listening speaking reading writing English language arts math science and social studies Specifically the study assessed the predictive power of student scores on the ACCESS test on the criterion variable of student scores on the Georgia CRCT The participants in the study were third grade English language learner students enrolled in a Northeast Georgia school system for the 2013-2014 school year Once the data was gathered descriptive statistics were computed before the correlational analysis Pearson correlations were used to examine the relationships between variables The results showed a strong positive significant correlation between student scores on the ACCESS test and student scores on the CRCT The results are discussed in terms of policy and student learning
