Crime Of Passion:

Crimes of Passion Octopus Publishing Group, 1975 The French would say that a crime of passion is to kill for love. They believe and rightly so that any human being driven to the limits of endurance by uncontrollable feelings is capable of committing an act as bloody, brutal and savage as any in history. Many crimes are motivated by passion and are not merely versions of the eternal triangle: the killing for lust or love. Anger, frustration, greed, resentment and despair all play their part. Here you can read about many such crimes including the murder of Stamford White, a distinguished American architect; about Ruth Ellis, the last woman to be hanged in Britain; the Red Barn murder and many others.

Crimes of Passion Howard Engel, 2016-03-01 Thirty real life accounts of passion gone lethally wrong. Celebrated mystery writer Howard Engel traces the history of the crime of passion through France, England, Canada and the United States in his first nonfiction book. The story of Ruth Ellis, the last woman hanged in England, is explored along with more familiar modern cases such as those of O J Simpson and Lorena Bobbitt. With each sordid tale, Engel explores the legal codes and moral implications surrounding crimes of passion throughout history. Careful research and a novelist's eye for detail and dramatization bring each grisly case into chilling clarity. Crimes of Passion is a must read for true crime enthusiasts, armchair historians and fans of the macabre.

Crime of Passion Tim Bentley, 2020-07-31 This Book of Short Stories has five chapters of Lust, Love, Passion and Ending with Murder. This book will keep you guessing and engaged until the very end. One of my favorite lines comes from Chapter 5, 'The Other Woman'. On Saturday evening, December 25th at 10 pm, police responded to a homicide called in by Gayle's husband, Charles. When the police arrived, they saw a female victim, Gayle, lying on the floor. She had been shot three times in the chest. The police asked Charles what had happened. He stated that he had gotten home from work and had found Gayle lying on the kitchen floor.

LIFE Crimes of Passion The Editors of LIFE, 2016-11-11 LIFE magazine presents stories of crimes of passion.

Crimes of Passion Since Shakespeare Adrian Howe, 2023-04-28 Bringing key Shakespeare texts into dialogue with feminist socio-legal research, this book investigates the notion of a crime of passion, indicatively wife killing. Its key concern is to bring attention to a cultural and legal revolution widely overlooked even in the law field where it occurred. In 2009, the English Parliament passed a controversial law abolishing the defence of provocation. Explaining the new law, reformers said that this so-called 'heat of passion' defence had allowed men to get away with murder by blaming the victim. Abolishing it in cases of alleged infidelity would end the culture of excuses. Unpacking what was at stake in the reformers' revolutionary challenge to the English law of murder's age-old concession to human frailty in 'red mist' rage cases, this book charts passion's progress in wife killing cases over the centuries. It commences in the early modern era when jurists were busy distinguishing murder from manslaughter and contemporaneously Shakespeare set about querying culturally inscribed excuses for femicide in his plays Titus Andronicus and Othello. This book will appeal to feminist and socio-legal scholars, criminologists and those working in the fields of law and literature, legal theory and Shakespeare studies. More widely, it will appeal to anyone.
