Un/belonging Identities: Relating Narratives of Queer Trauma Mark Vicars, Jordan Gonzalez, Liam Wrigley, Jonathan Glazzard, 2025-11-13 This Research Topic will examine the impact of trauma as it relates to the lived experiences of well being on and in LGBTQIA lives in educational domains The papers in the Topic will re present kaleidoscopic experiences of the social and cultural landscapes of the performative abjection of Queer gender and sexuality as experienced in and across cultural differences and intersectionality in school settings The papers in the collection will draw on the sociology of affect as a lens for addressing how social and emotional well being in LGBTQIA lives is a constant negotiation for young people The concept of social well being has been instrumental in bringing together a number of burgeoning disciplines across the social field sector and this Research Topic will focus on how LGBTQIA self identified young people navigate historical traumas social isolation and generate social well being in their personal lives and communities Researchers like Van der Kolk 2015 and Perry and Winfrey 2021 draw our attention to the impact of trauma on the body and the brain They highlight the damaging and often long term effect of trauma on brain development and the nervous system Attention is also given to the ways in which trauma can inhibit weaken and alter higher order thinking skills concentration and neurological pathways in the brain The body s response to trauma can also result in a constant release of hormones such as adrenalin and cortisol that can lead to a heightened nervous system To date there has been limited research on LGBTQI trauma informed narratives and their effects in Queer life worlds The Research Topic will disseminate trauma informed educative frameworks of practice strengths based resources and culturally inclusive language protocols Greig Bailey Abbott Brunzell 2021 21st Century Journalism in India Nalini Rajan, 2007-03-06 This text discusses the theories and practices of journalism in 21st India The four main sections examine dealing with the media representation of marginalized groups of society studying the coverage of important areas such as economics and science different kinds of journalistic practice and future trends of journalism Stringers and the Journalistic Field Nimmagadda Bhargav, 2023-02-28 This book is one of the first ethnographic works on small town stringers or informal news workers in Indian journalism It explores existing practices and cultures in the field of local journalism and the roles and spaces stringers occupy The book outlines the caste gender class and region based biases in the production of Indian language journalism with a specific focus on stringers working in Telugu dailies in small towns or mofussil areas of Andhra Pradesh and Telangana states in south India Further it captures their daily work and processes of news production and the precarious lives they often lead while working in small towns or mofussils The author by using Bourdieu s field theory introduces the journalistic practices of stringers working on the margins and how they negotiate the complex hierarchies that exist within the journalistic field and outside it This book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of ethnography media sociology journalism and media studies labour studies and Area studies especially South Asian studies Vidura ,2006 Police Leaders as Thinkers Arvind Verma, Dilip K. Das, 2023-02-21

This book identifies police leaders who have stood out and chalked a path that has transformed their organizations. It describes these thinkers who look deep into the challenges of policing and comment critically upon various responses and actions. Featuring profiles of police leaders from various countries, this book features officers with an aptitude for learning, presenting the situations they have confronted and the methods they have adopted to change systems and usher reforms. It identifies the characteristics of thinking police officers and suggests the ways in which the serious policing challenges of modern times can be addressed by creative and outside the box thinking by leadership. Appropriate for students of criminal justice and policing, for researchers studying law enforcement, and for practitioners discussing policing reform, this book will initiate a new debate about the nature and possibilities of building new police for the 21st century. Unruly Figures

Navaneetha Mokkil, 2019-05-02. The vibrant media landscape of Kerala, where kiosks overflow with magazines and colourful film posters line roadside walls, creates a sexually charged public sphere that has a long history of political protests. The 2014 Kiss of Love campaign garnered national attention, sparking controversy as images of activists kissing in public and dragged into police vans flooded the media. In Unruly Figures, Navaneetha Mokkil tracks the cultural practices through which sexual figures, particularly the sex worker and the lesbian, are produced in the public imagination. Her analysis includes representations of the prostitute figure in popular media, trajectories of queerness in Malayalam films, public discourse on lesbian sexuality, the autobiographical project of sex worker and activist Nalini Jameela, and the memorialization of murdered transgender activist Sweet Maria, showing how various marginalized figures stage their own fractured journeys of resistance in the post-1990s context of globalization. By bringing a substantial body of Malayalam literature and media texts on gender, sexuality, and social justice into conversation with current debates around sexuality studies and transnational feminism in Asian and Anglo-American academia, Mokkil reorients the debates on sexuality in India by considering the fraught trajectories of identity and rights. Reading Interests and Abilities of Adolescents and Adults

Working of the Indian Constitution Arghya Sengupta, Goyal Omika, 2024-09-04. The Indian Constitution has held the country together for 75 years now. This volume demonstrates the Constitution is not a static document and has seen several amendments and interpretations over the years. It delves into how the document has worked for the people since its adoption, its strengths and weaknesses, its many interpretations, how it has influenced and shaped our collectives over time, and in turn been shaped by the people. The Indian Constitution clearly vests power in the hands of its people. This volume critically examines how the longest written national Constitution is made successful by people who take its spirit to heart and let it inform their activities, and how, like anywhere in the world, it is a work in progress. It covers a range of debates on issues such as individual freedom of expression, freedom of association, freedom to lead lives of dignity, etc., liberty, freedom from oppression, the right to life right to equality justice among several others The book contains essays by judges lawyers and academics who describe the journey of the Constitution through doctrine case law and comparative analyses with other countries At the same time it also contains essays by doctors politicians activists bureaucrats and a number of methodologically diverse essays by a host of demographically diverse writers The volume will be an indispensable read for scholars and researchers of legal studies political scientists governance public policy modern history and South Asia studies It will also be of immense interest to political scientists political theorists legal scholars historians lawyers and general readers interested in the history of the Indian Constitution
